

MRS. NETTIE CRAVEN DECLARED TO BE INSANE

EVANGELISTIC CAMPAIGN SHOULD NOT BE MEASURED IN DOLLARS AND CENTS.

REPLY TO REV. C. R. BROWN

Drs. Baker and Dille Stand By the Evangelistic Workers.

Methodist Pastor Has a Few Disappointments on Results.

"There were ninety and nine that safely lay
In the shelter of the fold,
But one was off on the hills away;
Far off from the gates of gold;
Alone on the mountain, wild and bare,
Away from the tender Shepherd's care."

"Those of us who have not succumbed to the higher criticism, to agnosticism, theism and a few other isms, feel that we have been admonished to go up the dizzy heights of the mountain, wild and bare, and bring back the lone sheep to the fold," said a minister today.

The ministers and religious enthusiasts of Oakland recently organized a searching party for that purpose and the result was the greatest union revival since the Presbyterian days of B. Pay Mills, who subsequently became a Unitarian.

Now the ministers and others who arranged for the meetings are wondering just what has been accomplished. The Rev. C. R. Brown of the First Congregational Church, commented upon the results in the "Pacific," pointing out that little had been accomplished by the professional evangelists. Others have followed in his wake. In the ministry there are many who believe that the revival should be repeated, notwithstanding that it cost the city $5,000 and the maintenance of the outside workers while they were here.

HEATED DISCUSSION.
The discussion has been heated in religious circles and has almost resolved itself into the question, "What is the price of a human soul?"

The city spent more than $5,000 in the search for the lone sheep. As a result, 1,500 cards were received setting forth that the signers had been converted. Some of these cards were bogus. Practical jokers with abnormal senses of humor signed the names of friends.

MACHINE DITTIES.
Another criticism that has been freely made is that the evangelists who furnished what Dr. Dille calls "machine-made ditties," sold three brands of hymn books to "help defray expenses."

DR. DILLE DISAPPOINTED
The Rev. Dr. E. R. Dille, pastor of the First Methodist Church, who was one of the committee that arranged the revival, admits that he, too, is disappointed, but he says the meetings resulted in good. He said today:

"Sufficient time has now elapsed since the Chapman meetings for us to estimate their net results, and to judge whether or not a disastrous reaction is likely to follow them.
"On the whole I am gratified with the outcome.
"I share with others some disappointment over the fact that we failed to reach many of those who lead in the professional, business and social life of this city, and that we failed almost utterly to reach or even touch the un-churched masses about us.
"We failed to reach the first class named largely because of the fact that we have had evangelistic services that struck false note, and that proved wretched fiascos so far as ultimate good was concerned, and the recent campaign, if it had done nothing else, was worth while since it did much to roll away the reproach that has attached to the very word 'evangelist' in this city.

WISH LONGER CAMPAIGN.
"If the campaign could have been protracted I think we might have reached the lapsed masses as they are called, for it is probable that the seekers of religious dissipation would have had their curiosity sated and would not have thronged such meetings as were held in the theaters to the exclusion of other seekers, for we found that non-church goers were not sufficiently eager to hear the Gospel to wedge their way through a pushing, jostling throng of 'bench-warmers'."

PREACHED TO CHRISTIANS
"What I heard of the preaching during the revival seemed to me to be on a high Gospel plane, and unexceptionable in a matter and spirit. The evangelists preached a great deal to Christian people, and the result is an improved tone in the spiritual life of our churches. I observed no undue appeal to the emotions no posing or attitude, but a sane, sensible, unsensational presentation of fundamental Gospel truth. In the preaching I heard the ethical was not neglected, but a Gospel of righteousness was preached."

DOESN'T LIKE DITTIES.
"The singing was good of its kind, though I confess I have little use for the machine-made ditties that are the stock in trade of the professional evangelist. I regret that Dr. Chapman's entourage find it necessary to exploit three separate singing books, though I acquit these brethren of what would appear upon its face to be a financial speculation."

"As to the cards signed, of the more than 100 cards that came into our hands in this church, not more than fifty per cent represented any real and deep religious interest, but the results accruing are not measured or limited by the number of cards signed. Fully two-thirds of those who have begun a new life or have renewed their Christian covenant did not sign cards in the meetings though they were reached through the religious quickening which the meetings produced. We have found many open doors to homes and hearts that would have been closed but for the meetings."

"I have been asked if I would favor a similar movement again in the light of our experience. I answer unhesitatingly, yes! I believe the good effect of the work done will be cumulative, and that another such campaign would have fewer drawbacks and would begin where the present work left off and accomplish much good."

DR. BAKER'S REPLY.
Rev. E. E. Baker, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, and chairman of the Evangelistic Executive Committee, today said:

"I deprecate the premature discussion of the results of the evangelistic campaign. It is too early for any one to know accurately the numerical gains to the various churches that entered into the movement. As far as the seed sown has been harvested, the access-sions to the churches have been very gratifying.

"One church reports sixty-one new members as a direct result of the special services. Another church has added fifty per cent to its former membership, while another church has already baptized forty-five persons, and there are more to follow. My own church had a special communion service April 2, two weeks after the close of the meetings, and we welcomed thirty-five new members. My own experience with the cards signed has been more than gratifying. Not having an assistant pastor, I have not been able to see all who expressed a preference for the Presbyterian Church, but expect to do so this month, and am confident of having another large accession May 7."

FINAL ESTIMATE.
"Not only the number of new members is satisfactory, but the character of the same insures the substantial strengthening of the churches. Whole families have been brought into the church relation who, before these meetings were held were outside of religious influence. It will take weeks and months of following up before we will be able to make the final estimate of results."

"It is safe to say that where there are no additions to the churches, the fault must be largely with the pastor. An evangelistic campaign is only a great opportunity for the local workers to press the claims of the Gospel. As such the simultaneous movement under Dr. Chapman was entirely successful. The subject of religion was made prominent, and approach to people who needed to be enlisted in Christ's service was made easy. The cards signed serve as an introduction and make Christianity the natural subject of conversation. If for no other reason, I rejoice in the movement because it has given the churches of Oakland an opportunity to be aggressive."

UPLIFTED COMMUNITY.
"In addition to the substantial gains from the world in the way of converts, the churches themselves have greatly profited by the visitation of the evangelists and their singers. The prayer meetings are more largely attended and of a higher spiritual tone. A new interest in Bible study is manifested and a greater disposition to church work is shown by many who were formerly inactive. If the majority of those reached by the meetings were Christians, it is certain they needed the spiritual stimulus they received. So that directly and indirectly the campaign contributed to the uplift of the community."

DOLLARS AND CENTS.
"I am especially sorry that the estimate of the work done by these servants of God should be determined by dollars and cents. The fact is that Oakland, put into this campaign less money than any other city of its size. The local cost was $2,200. Denver spent five times that much, Los Angeles four times as much and Louisville

SUSAN APPROVES DIVORCE

"It is a Refuge For Women Married to Brutal Men".

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Over the bitter protest of Miss Susan B. Anthony, the National Council of Women today adopted a resolution pledging the organization to co-operate with church and state to ascertain what are the chief causes which induce or lead up to divorce.

"I do not consider divorce an evil by any means," asserted Miss Anthony, who was on her feet before the reading of the resolution had been concluded. "It is just as much a refuge for women married to brutal men as Canada was once a refuge for brutal masters. I will never vote for a resolution that will cut women off from refuge from designing and brutal men."

The Council adopted formally the anti-polygamy resolution favorably reported from committee yesterday, also a resolution deploring the horrors of war in general, and particularly the present war in the Far East.

MAY KILL ANYTHING

President Granted Permit to Shoot Every Sort of Game.

PUEBLO, Colo. April 14.—The special train bearing President Roosevelt and party is running closely on schedule time, passing Telluride at 8:30 this morning. The party reach Trinidad, the first stop in Colorado, about noon.

The Presidential train was met at Emory Gap by Governor McDonald and party, who will accompany the President to Colorado Springs.

The President will deliver a short address on his arrival at the Union Station here at 5:45 p. m. Arrangements have been completed for a reception and it is said that at least twenty thousand people will surround the station.

TRINIDAD, Colo. April 14.—President Roosevelt crossed the Colorado-New Mexico boundary line at 11:50 a. m. and his train is scheduled to reach Trinidad at 1:20 p. m.

Gov. McDonald and his party met the President at Emory Gap N. M. After greetings were exchanged Gov. McDonald presented to the President a special engrossed hunting license giving him carte blanche permission to kill any game he may want in Colorado.

The President's trip through New Mexico was a continuous ovation, for although the train did not stop at small stations there were crowds at all of them who let out a good Western yell for the nation's chief executive.

THREATENED BY MT. SHASTA

STRANGE ACTIONS OF THE MOUNTAIN ALARMS THE PEOPLE.

REDDING, April 14.—Considerable anxiety exists among people of Sisson and other places in the vicinity of Mount Shasta over the strange actions of the mountain.

For several days distant rumblings have been heard and snow is melting fast.

Yesterday at 11 o'clock volcanic ashes and lava, like mud, began to ooze through the surface of the earth at the edge of the town of Sisson.

The flow gradually increased until today it is pouring forth in several places like thickened paint.

The report comes from the other side of the mountain that the McCloud Lumber Company's railroad track suddenly sank in two places and the same flow is noticeable.

While the mountain itself shows no visible eruption, the signs are sufficient to cause some alarm.

Eleven years ago the same conditions existed for a time, causing much alarm.

CASE POSTPONED.

PORTLAND, Ore., April 14.—The trial of land fraud cases which was scheduled to begin today, was postponed by mutual agreement to Monday.

PLAN TO ROB YOUNG

Mrs. Smith Told Young Nan Was to Become a Mother.

NEW YORK, April 14.—The indictment charging Nan Patterson with conspiracy with J. Morgan Smith and Mrs. Smith, wrongfully to obtain money from Caesar Young, was dismissed in the Court of General Sessions today at the request of Assistant District Attorney Rand.

Counsel for the Smiths demurred to the indictment against the Smiths and declares that the facts alleged against them did not constitute a crime.

The court reserved the decision.

Counsel for the Smiths endeavored to secure the return of property taken from the Smiths, but failed.

NAN IN COURT.
Miss Patterson, who is about to be tried again for the murder of Caesar Young, was brought into court with the Smiths.

Mr. Rand told the court that a mistake had been made in drawing up the indictment against Miss Patterson and that it tended to prejudice her position in the capital case.

In asking for the dismissal of the indictments against her he reserved the right to re-submit.

Miss Patterson was then remanded back to the Tombs Prison.

The effect of the action will be to prevent her counsel from getting at the Grand Jury minutes, which might have aided in her defense.

INTERCEPTED LETTER.
In support of his contention that the facts charged against the Smiths did not constitute conspiracy their counsel read an intercepted letter from Julia Smith to Caesar Young, in which the writer stated that Miss Patterson was about to become a mother, which is one of the allegations in the charge of conspiracy to get money from Young.

Counsel said the statement as to Miss Patterson's health did not bear out the allegations and that the alleged threatening of Young with revulsion, if true, was an independent offense.

He declared that false pretenses could not be considered extortion.

Judge Foster reserved decision on the demurrer and allowed the counsel to submit briefs later in the day.

Smith and his wife, who were excused from pleading, were remanded to the Tombs.

TROUBLE FEARED

Hundreds of Insane Persons Might Seek to Escape.

HUDSON, Mich., April 14.—Fifteen young women and four men, whose names the police say are unknown, tarred and feathered Mrs. May Post on Monday night. Mrs. Post has been living in the Retan building alone. Well-known men have been frequenting the Retan block since Mrs. Post took up her residence there, and this gave rise to considerable scandal. Complaints made to the police were unheeded, and some young married women advised Mrs. Post by letter that she would better leave the city. No attention was paid to this, except that a man supposed to be her husband suddenly appeared on the scene.

Late on Monday night, after the streets were deserted, fifteen women and four men, all said to be prominent in the city, appeared at the door of Mrs. Post's quarters and gained admission. They did not hesitate to make their grand known, and when the stranger tried to interfere the men of the party told him he had better go into another room and keep quiet.

The women then ordered Mrs. Post to remove some of her garments. Despite her pleadings they applied a thick coat of tar from buckets which they had brought along and then sprinkled an abundance of feathers upon it.

Then they departed, with a warning that if the rooms were not vacated within forty-eight hours worse treatment would be inflicted. Mrs. Post has disappeared.

FALLS 12 FEET AND IS KILLED

REDDING, Cal., April 14.—M. Lazzarotti, a miner, fell 12 feet in the fielding level of the Iron Mountain Mine this morning and was killed.

SHE WILL BE SENT TO A SANITARIUM

Became Violent Last Night and Tried to Set Fire to a Burlington Hotel.

BURLINGTON, Ia., April 14.—MRS. NETTIE R. CRAVEN, WHO FIGURED IN A SENSATIONAL SUIT FOR A SHARE OF THE LATE SENATOR FAIR'S ESTATE ON THE GROUND THAT SHE WAS A COMMON LAW WIFE, WAS ADJUDGED INSANE HERE TODAY.

SHE WILL BE SENT TO A SANITARIUM.

MRS. CRAVEN HAS BEEN HERE A WEEK, STAYING AT DIFFERENT HOTELS.

SHE BECAME VIOLENT LAST NIGHT, AND IT IS ALLEGED ATTEMPTED TO SET FIRE TO THE HOTEL DELANO.

MRS. CRAVEN IS SAID TO HAVE

WEALTHY RELATIVES AT WASHINGTON, IOWA.

HER DAUGHTER RESIDES AT ST. LOUIS.

The details of Mrs. Craven's suit to recover a share of the Fair millions are known to all Californians. She claimed to be the widow of Senator Fair. After a long contest all her claims were denied by the Supreme Court. Subsequently she made a small settlement with the Fair heirs. After she paid her attorneys she received a very small sum as her share of the compromise. Some years ago Mrs. Craven was a teacher in the Lincoln School in this city.

WILL JUDGE MELVIN BE A CANDIDATE?

Jurist Says He Has No Present Intention of Being One, But Would not Refuse Gubernatorial Nomination.

According to the San Francisco Examiner, the friends of Judge Melvin are inaugurating a movement to have him nominated over Governor Pardee. The article states that Judge Melvin's friends are incensed because their favorite was not appointed to the District Court of Appeals, it being alleged that the Judge had the Governor's promise to that effect.

The article goes on to ascribe the appointment of Judge Hall largely to the influence of Guy C. Earl, with whom Judge Hall was formerly associated in the practice of the law, and closes with the statement that "Judge Melvin would make a strong candidate for the Republican nomination for Governor next year."

Judge Melvin declines to discuss his failure to be appointed to the District Court of Appeals, and men in the confidence of Pardee assert that the Governor made no positive assurances to anyone of the candidates prior to announcing his appointments. Up to this time Judge Melvin has been one of Governor Pardee's most loyal adherents.

Judge Melvin was asked by a TRIBUNE reporter this morning if he really intended to be a candidate for Governor.

"The article," said the Judge, "was a surprise to me. I have no present intention of running for Governor."

"I do not know what my friends may have said or done in regard to the matter."

"Occupying a judicial position as I do, I should not actively seek any nomination."

"The nomination for Governor, however, is an honor, which, if offered to me, I should be glad to accept."

Governor Pardee's friends say they have no idea Judge Melvin will oppose the Governor for renomination.

STRIKE ON SANTA FE

Union and Non-Union Men Leave the Shops.

TOPEKA, April 14.—One hundred boiler-makers of the Atchafalpa shops struck here today. They claim as their grievance that "botched up work" done by "unfair labor" at Western Santa Fe shops points where the union boiler-makers are out, is sent to Topeka to be worked over.

Early today shop superintendent Purcell learned that the union men were to strike at 11 o'clock, and he immediately began to send out discharge checks to them.

The union boiler-makers at once struck and the non-union men with which the shops had been quietly supplied for the past three months for such an emergency, were sent to Topeka to be worked over.

Superintendent Purcell refuses to state his further action at present. The strikers think other-shop men will go out in sympathy.

35 BUILDINGS BURNED

GREATER PORTION OF BUSINESS SECTION OF TOWN DESTROYED.

SPRINGVALE, Maine, April 14.—The greater portion of the business section of Springvale, together with many dwelling houses, was destroyed by fire today, entailing a loss estimated at $200,000. Thirty-five buildings were burned.

The fire started in a boot and shoe factory owned by the W. R. Usher & Son Company of Newburyport, Mass.

What To Do For Heart Trouble

I Back Up My Advice With This Remarkable Offer—A Full Dollar's Worth of My Remedy Free to Prove that I am Right.

I ask no reference, no deposit, no security. There is nothing to promise, nothing to pay—either now or later. To my heart sufferer who has not tried my Remedy—Dr. Shoop's Restorative—I will gladly give, free of charge, a sample, but a full dollar bottle.

I am warranted in making this unusual offer because mine is no ordinary remedy. It does not merely try to stimulate the heart. Such treatments are worse than useless. It goes straight to the cause of all heart trouble—the heart nerves—and strengthens them and vitalizes them and restores them. Then that is the end of heart diseases.

For the heart itself has no more self control than a common sponge. It is made to beat by a tender nerve so tiny that it is scarcely visible to the naked eye. Yet ten thousand times a day this delicate nerve must cause the heart to expand and contract.

The heart is about the size of your clenched fist. Open and close your fist a dozen times, even, and you will see the monstrous labor this little nerve must do. The heart nerve is only a tiny branch of the great sympathetic nervous system. Each branch of this system is so closely allied with the others that weakness or irregularity at any point is apt to spread. Heart trouble frequently arises from stomach trouble through sympathy, and kidney trouble may also follow. For each of these organs is operated by a branch of these same sympathetic nerves—the insidious nerves.

The bond of sympathy between the nerves that operate the vital organs has a useful purpose, as well. For what cure weakness in one branch will surely cure weakness in every branch—will restore one center—will surely restore them all.

There is nothing new about this—nothing any physician would dispute. But it remained for Dr. Shoop to apply this knowledge—to put it into practical use. Dr. Shoop's Restorative is the result of a quarter of a century of endeavor along this very line. It does not dose the organ or deplete it—but it does it at once to the nerve—the inside nerve—the power nerve—and builds it up, and strengthens it in one branch will surely cure weakness in every branch—will restore one center—will surely restore them all.

CONSTABLE HAS BATTLE ONE OUGHT TO KNOW WITH A WOMAN.

Takes a Stove Under a Writ and is Beaten Over the Head By Woman With a Hoe.

When Constables H. T. Hempstead and M. H. Lane armed with a writ of replevin went to the home of Mrs. Ellen Leliever on Thirty-ninth street, to get possession of a stove claimed by William H. Reece, they met with some little opposition, Mrs. Leliever defending the property with a hoe.

The stove in question is claimed by Reece, he stating that when the Lelievers moved out of No. 1007 Jackson street, which is his property, they took the stove, which did not belong to them, Reece had Mrs. Leliever arrested on the charge of grand larceny, but she was discharged by the justice, who ruled that the complaint was defective and should have been made out for embezzlement and not for grand larceny.

After the case had been dismissed, Reece sued for a writ of replevin, and yesterday when the constables attempted to serve the replevin papers, they had an experience they will not soon forget.

They went to the house, and told Mrs. Leliever what they had come for, but she declared that if they got the stove it would be over her dead body. The constables finally saw it was useless to argue with the woman, and Hempstead remained in the house, while Lane went to telephone for a plumber to come and disconnect the stove, and also get an express wagon in which to remove it.

When Lane arrived with the plumber he was forced to open the door with a skeleton key, lighting all the while with the woman, who rapped him severely on the head with the hoe. They finally got the stove out of the house, Mrs. Leliever declaring all the while that the stove was her property and that they had no right to remove it.

UPRISING IS PLANNED BY THE RUSSIANS.

Riots and Bloodshed Scheduled
For May 1--Prisons Are Now Filled to Overflowing.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—Development all point to a crisis in the present agitation among the workmen of the city and the peasants in the country on May Day, and appeals are pouring in from all quarters of Russia for military protection.

The St. Petersburg workmen are preparing a great demonstration. Arms and bombs in large quantities have been smuggled in and hoarded in the city. A scale is feared. Wealthy persons who ordinarily go to villas on the islands of the Neva or to neighboring country houses, this year are going abroad. The police are taking special measures to meet the situation, evidently relying on the troops and police to guard the city.

All the prominent agitators are being arrested, or have already been sent back to the villages from which they originally came.

The prisoners are filled to overflowing. There have been several disputes between the workmen and the managers of the Putiloff, Baltic and Nevsky works and between the employees and the police of the government railroads. At the latter place the men refuse to agree to donate any portion of their pay to assist in the support of families of the soldiers at the front, claiming that the money is used to prosecute the war to which they are opposed.

The news received from the interior is alarming, especially from the Baltic provinces where the entire population is in a state of intense excitement.

The cities are being flooded with revolutionary propaganda, calling on the people to rise on May Day. The criminal classes are taking advantage of the situation to pillage and plunder, while in the country the landlords are powerless to cope with the peasants and demand the stationing of troops at every station.

From Dunaburg, Government of Vitebsk, comes reports that the Jews are in a state of panic over the circulation of proclamations similar to those which preceded the outbreaks at Kishineff and Gomel.

Ekaterinoslav three revolutionists who were surrounded by police forcing their way to liberty, killing or wounding several of the latter.

A despatch from Kurs says that the employees of the trans-Caucasian railroad are on strike and that 100 miles of the track has been damaged.

ROJESTVENSKY IS POPULAR

RUSSIANS LIKE THE WAY HE IS HEADING FOR BATTLE.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14 (4:23 p. m.).—The Admiralty has not received any dispatches recently from Vice Admiral Rojostvensky.

The officials say that all talk of the emergence of any of the interned Russian war vessels to join Rojostvensky's squadron is pure nonsense.

Much satisfaction and admiration were expressed in naval circles at the bold, direct manner in which Rojostvensky is carrying out the object of his voyage.

The attitude of indifference in certain quarters of society as to the outcome of the naval battle is arousing criticism, and Prince Oukomsky, in his new paper, the Dawn, today takes society to task for its unpatriotic, careless attitude.

TO IMPROVE THE CONDITIONS

GOVERNOR-GENERAL OF CAU-CASUS WANTS TO HAVE PEACE AND HARMONY.

TEFLIS, April 14.—A proclamation of Count von Vorontzoff-Dashkoff, the new governor general of the Caucasus, was gazetted today, announcing that in accordance with the intentions of Emperor Nicholas, the governor general will, when he assumes office, convene conferences of representatives of all the towns, peasant communities and orthodox, Armenian and Mohammedan churches, with the view of concocting measures for the establishment of public security, defining the amendments necessary to the judicial procedure of the Caucasus and introducing Zemstvo administration.

The governor general also proposed to hasten the surveys of the crown lands available for cultivation, that they may be allotted to those in need of land. This is true of every statement we make in our advertisements.

GORKY WILL BE BROUGHT TO TRIAL

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—On account of the condition of his health the fact that the evidence against Maxim Gorky is not stronger than against hundreds of others who have not been arrested in connection with the disturbances of January 22, it is understood the government has abandoned its intention of bringing him to trial.

TO GET PRISONER.

Day Jailer Bartholomew Curtis today left for Stockton to bring back John O'Connor, a taking beggar, who pretended to be insane and deaf and dumb to gain release from the city of San Francisco. When O'Connor arrives here he will be thrust into a cell in the City Prison and kept there for a period of sixty days.

O'Connor fooled the jailers and the medical men into the belief that he was not only deaf and dumb, but also insane, but now he will have to pay the penalty of his lie.

HOW TO STRENGTHEN THE OR- GANS OF DIGESTION.

A Course of Treatment That Really
Cures Indigestion Instead of Merely Relieving Symptoms.

There are plenty of remedies by which you can relieve for the time heartburn, pain and gas in the stomach and can smother nervous sensations and induce artificial sleep. But when you take your next meal all your troubles begin afresh.

You can humor your stomach by giving it predigested food. Still there isn't much fun in that kind of eating and when you want to get some pleasure out of your meals again, you find that your stomach is weaker than ever.

There is only one sensible thing to do. Strengthen the stomach and when it is once in proper condition it will do its own work better than any process devised by man can ever do it. When it is again strong don't abuse it. Choose rational food and study the effect even of that as yours may at best be a feckless stomach.

For a weak stomach, a lazy stomach, a broken-down stomach you need a tonic that will rouse the stomach to do the work that will keep it robust.

The best remedy ever found for this purpose is the one used by Mrs. Nettie Darvoux, of Detroit, Michigan, whose recovery from dyspepsia of nine years standing attracted widespread attention in September last.

Mr. Strong read with interest her statement that she had been cured of chronic dyspepsia by a few weeks' use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. He had suffered in the same way most of his life, and just then was having a very severe attack. He began the same treatment at once and in a few months wrote that he, too, had realized a complete cure.

"For years," states Mr. Strong, "I suffered greatly from indigestion. I tried many remedies and some of them would relieve me for a time, but the trouble always came back. About six months ago I began to feel better, but at last she was entirely cured, and in a short time too, by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Her statement led me to try the same remedy and it proved to be as successful in my case. I took only the boxes and I am convinced that I am permanently cured. I have not had the slightest symptoms of indigestion for the last two months."

Multitudes of cases that had defied all other remedies have been quickly cured by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. B. E. Strong lives at Capeville, Shelby county, Tennessee. The remedy which he used with such success can be found everywhere.

While so promptly effective, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills contain no harmful stimulants or opiates. They are perfectly safe and create no drug habit. Every dyspeptic should read "What to Eat and How to Eat," written by Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, New York, for a copy.

A SATURDAY NIGHT EVENT

The Braley-Grote Furniture Company
Inaugurate a Series of Unusual
Special Sales.

As announced in tonight's TRIBUNE the Braley-Grote Furniture Company will conduct tomorrow night the second of their series of "after six" Saturday night special sales.

These people have come into Oakland with a very aggressive record and propose to carry on the same methods of doing business that have made their firm so successful in other cities.

Among the features which they have adopted is a plan for giving every Saturday night from 6:30 to 8:30, a very strong special offer, the idea being to get a number of people into their store and acquiring them with their establishment. In conversation with Mr. Grote today he seemed to be very much encouraged with the results so far. He said in part: "Yes, we have done very nicely and are very much pleased with the support we have received so far."

Of course we realize that our Saturday night sales will be much better patronized as people find out the real nature of the values we are offering and it will take some time before we can accomplish this, it looks very well to me as though the people of Oakland had not been accustomed to following up special sales but we hope to convince them that they can well afford to watch our ads. We positively refuse to exaggerate or misrepresent in any manner, however, so you see it will take a little time as it is sometimes difficult for us to impress the people with the true values we offer at these Saturday night sales. I am sure, however, that every customer who calls Saturday night will be so well pleased that they will continue to watch the sales and patronize them and also call the attention of their friends to the values we are offering.

"We have concluded to exhibit on Friday and Saturday these specials in our window and think in that way we may be able to give people a more intelligent idea of the nature of the values we are giving."

"Tomorrow night we are offering a rug at 50c which is certainly a very remarkable value. We state in our advertisements that these rugs are our regular $1.75 line and although it may seem impossible it is nevertheless an absolute fact which can be substantiated by any one caring to investigate. This is true of every statement we make in our advertisements."

"Our policy is that that it is best in the long run to play a fair, square game."

The patronage of the Braley-Grote Furniture Company is the people is proof of the fact that the people of this city appreciate their methods.

JAPANESE DEFEAT RUSSIANS

SMALL BATTLE IN THE FIELD
WON BY MIKADO'S MEN.

TOKIO, April 14 (3 p. m.).—The following official announcement was made today:

"Our force advancing eastward via the Fusan and Hailung road encountered and defeated the enemy on the morning of the 12th at Erhoulou, seven miles east of Linpan. The enemy's strength was one regiment of infantry, six squadrons of cavalry and four guns. Our force then occupied Tsangshih, about nineteen miles east of Yungshan. The enemy is retreating toward Hailung, fighting at every step."

The enemy on the Kirin road has gradually retreated since the 11th, a portion of his force still remaining to bar the passage of the Yalu river.

"No change has occurred in the Changtu or Pankien districts except occasional cavalry skirmishes."

EXCURSION GOES OVER

INDEFINITE POSTPONEMENT OF
VISIT OF LOS ANGELES
BUSINESS MEN.

The proposed excursion of the Los Angeles Board of Trade to this city has been indefinitely deferred, as will appear from the following letter which was received this morning by Secretary Stearns of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce:

"LOS ANGELES, April 13.—Edwin Stearns, Secretary Board of Trade, Oakland, Cal.: I have been up against it for the last week in consequence of attempting to arrange for our excursion to your city on the 15th of this month. But there are so many conflicting features connected with the arrangement that we have been compelled to postpone the matter for the present."

"It is my desire to include in the excursion the greater portion of our board of directors. They are all very busy men, as you know, and to take five days off to make the trip is quite an undertaking, especially at this season of the year. At their request I have made the date indefinite and will take up the matter again as soon as we can see our way clear."

"I trust you have not gone so far that you can not adjust matters to suit me. I am very anxious to see you and pull off the excursion at the original date, as I am very anxious to accompany it."

"With kind regards, I am, very truly yours,
FLANK WIGGINS,
"Secretary."

THE LACE HOUSE
12TH AND WASHINGTON STS.

Our Spring Lines Make New Friends Every Day

Trimmed Hats of Rare Beauty

Our display in Easter Millinery is of the practical sort. Each hat shows study—lots of it. The hundreds of effective designs that show the best work of up-to-date milliners are faithfully reproduced in the fascinating display to which you are invited.

Upon the many novel shapes which this season brought with it, artistic fingers have arranged the newest trimmings with striking effect. These dainty Parisian touches of color and arrangement are apparent everywhere and secure for each hat a distinct individuality.

Millinery which compels such admiration could easily be sold for prices much higher than ours; but millinery with us is not a "fancy" department, but a practical one.

These beautiful trimmed hats are priced $2.50, $3.00, $3.50 and up to $22.50.

Easter Veilings

The variety is as large as the many foibles of fashion demand—something to suit every new hat.

Among the favorites are the new plain and dotted meshes, tuxedos, hairline effects with dots; large dots and small dots.

Chantilly Vels with elaborate borders: colors include champagne, white, navy, black, blue, brown and green—50c to $1.95 each. Novelty chiffon drapes—with rich colored Persian bands; $1.50, $1.75, $1.95.

Some Special Values in the Dress Goods Section

Creme De Chine—23 inches wide—special at 58c yd.; in black, pearl gray, brown, reseda, champagne and light blue; has a beautiful silk tulle; most appropriate for afternoon and evening wear.

All-Silk Pongee—35 inches wide—Special 90c yd.

All-Wool Etamine—45 inches wide in black, brown, royal, navy, gray—special at 65c yd.

Easter Waists

—THIS MEANS WHITE WAISTS.

The variety and daintiness of the display of White Waists impels us to say with confidence that there is a waist here that measures up to the full demand of every woman in this vicinity.

White Lawn Waists show remarkably fine handwork, an increased richness of embellishment and it would appear that all this has been brought about without any increase in cost.

Prices are 75c, $1.00, $1.25 and up to $9.50.

There are twelve distinct styles at $1.25 that are exceptionally good values.

JAPANESE WHITE SILK WAISTS are exceedingly graceful and beautifully designed; values are surprisingly good. Prices are $1.95, $2.95 and up to $9.50.

Your New Tailored Gown

should be selected at once. The newest designs and fabrics are very fully represented in our Easter display. If you would have a perfect fit and would not be disappointed choose your suit at once—don't wait till the day before Easter.

New Tailored Suits are priced $15.00, $17.50, $20.00 and up to $45.00.

"Helpful Hints"

—our own illustrated magazine is now being distributed free to every house. If you don't receive one—ask for it at the store; there's one for every body.

Petticoats of Rustling Silk

With the new Easter gown a bright silk petticoat seems to be the natural accompaniment.

A specially good quality of new Silk Petticoats has just come to us; they are made of excellent taffeta in new brown, blue, green and in black. The flounce is circular and has the effect of three hemstitched ruffles. This is a most useful, dressy petticoat and great value at $5.50.

Other Silk Petticoats are priced up to $16.00.

White Petticoats

in all their snow-white attractiveness are here in great plenty for Easter.

There are so many that have claim to attention because of their dainty flouncings and finishings that it were idle to specialize. The deep flounces with embroidery, insides, lace, hemstitching and tucking must appeal strongly to all who are interested in good muslin wear. As to values—they were never quite so good—50c, 75c, $1.00 and up to $9.50.

Easter Neckwear

Bearing in mind the great white festival, there is now on display a dainty selection of white, washable neckwear; many of the prettiest designs are entirely white, while some are relieved with a little color; lace, embroidery, beadwork, French knots, hemstitching, neat folds, and fancy stitching are used with good judgment on producing the exquisite effect.

Prices are 25c, 35c and to 65c. Fancy silk Neckwear in as great variety as above—50c, 65c to $2.25.

Brilliant Ribbons

Here is art indeed—more and prettier ribbons than were ever seen at any previous Easter. From one to nine inches in width and from the plain, solid color to the ribbons that resemble hand-illuminated scrolls—all are here at the right prices.

Four of many novelties are: Grenadine effect with clover leaf and maiden hair pattern; full line of colors; 4 1/2 inches wide; 45c the yard.

7-inch satin taffeta ribbon with shaded prism dots; white grounds, with lavender, red or orange relief—50c the yd.

A rich, all-silk Dresden ribbon, patterned with delicate rose-buds and spray; 4 inches wide 50c Yd.

An all-silk novelty ribbon; 7 ins. wide; light or dark grounds with natural size cultivated poppy patterns... 75c Yd.

John Tubman, Edward R. Williams and James Connolly, accused of battering C. V. Gardiner, motorman on a Market street car, without provocation, were this morning fined $50 with the alternative of spending thirty days in prison by Police Judge Smith. The severe sentence will probably accomplish what was intended for, the prevention of young men taking possession of a car and running as they please to the discomfort of the passengers and the danger of the motorman and conductor.

TELLS OF CAPTURE BY JAPANESE

SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—In a letter written to a friend in this city, Otto Daniels, chief engineer of the Northwestern Steamship Company's steamer Tacoma, which was captured by Japanese cruisers while attempting to run the blockade at Vladivostok, details the history of that craft since leaving this port on January 6. Daniels states that the officers of the steamer knew that they were bound for the Siberian port and that their cargo was contraband. He says that some of the officers were only prevailed upon to make the voyage aboard the steamer. The crew did not know of their destination until the steamer reached Dutch Harbor. When they found it out they threatened to desert the ship, and a mutiny was only averted by the diplomacy of the Tacoma agent, who promised them a small fortune if the attempt was successful. The writer states that the Tacoma was in the ice she was in momentary danger of being crushed by the terrible

Mob Makes a Fierce At- tack on a Non-Union Driver.

CHICAGO, April 14.—Chas. Stubner, a non-union driver for a plano house, was the cause of a clash between police and strike sympathizers this afternoon when he was assaulted while delivering a load of plano stools to Montgomery, Ward & Co., dragged from his wagon and pounced upon by a mob of strikers. Stubner and his co-workers were chased then to near Madison and State streets. There a mob homed him and he was held for a minute. Then a photographer was hit with people and teams. A coal wagon forcing it away through the crowd, toppled over and the crowd surged up and down, tramping each other and knocking down a policeman, whose screams added to the excitement.

Two police officers were injured, and William J. Styles, one of the attacking strikers, was hurt. Five, 5,000 people were in the crowd.

Justice Edgar apparently suspected from the man's willingness to plead guilty that his offense might be more serious than an ordinary battery and inquired carefully for the details of the arrest. He learned by questioning that O'Neil's battery was performed upon the window of a wine shop.

Justice Edgar informed the prisoner that he was evidently guilty of burglary instead of battery and continued his case until tomorrow to produce further evidence.

The steamer Australia, which has been idle for nearly four years, rising at anchor off Martinez, was towed to the Redon Iron Works yesterday morning, where she is to be given an overhauling and put in condition for sea.

Nothing is being given out as to the purpose of putting the vessel into commission, but it is believed by wise ones along the water front that the steamer is to make several trips between here and Hawaiian ports to carry Japanese here. The vessel has accommodations for about a thousand steerage passengers.

How I Suffered with Itching and Bleeding Eczema

UNTIL CURED BY CUTICURA

"No tongue can tell how I suffered for five years with a terribly painful, itching, and bleeding eczema, my body and face being covered with scales. Never in my life did I experience such suffering, and I longed for death, which I felt was near. I had tried doctors and medicines without success, but I finally insisted that I try Cuticura. I felt better after the first bath with Cuticura Soap, and the application of Cuticura Ointment was soon entirely well. (Signed) Mrs. A. Etson, Bellevue, Mich."

SALOON PROTESTS HEARD BY COUNCILMEN.

After Hearing the Evidence in Two Cases Committee Votes in Favor of Petitioners.

At the meeting of the License Committee of the City Council last night the petition of Frank Johns of 168 Second street to establish a saloon at 501 Brush street, drew forth a largely signed protest, but after considering both sides of the case the committee thought that as he now has a saloon on one corner it would not matter if he moved to the other corner and concluded to grant his petition.

Thomas Pearson in speaking against granting the petition, said: "I speak on behalf of the mothers and sisters of the pupils living near the corner of Sixth and Brush streets. We have more children to the square inch in that section of the city than in any other part of Oakland. We have eleven saloons there now and the people there believe that it will be an injustice to establish another one."

D. C. Crawford was called as a witness for Frank Johns and stated that so far as he was concerned he did not see that it would make any difference to allow Johns to change his saloon from one block to another.

Chairman Bacus developed a stream of wit when it came to examining the witnesses and when W. E. McGowan testified for Johns, Bacus said:

"Are you a man of family?" McGowan said: "Of two."

Bacus said: "Of two families?" McGowan said: "No, one family is enough for me."

There were a large number of witnesses present to testify in favor of petitioners but it was not considered necessary to call them.

WOMEN RAISE VOICE.

Mrs. F. L. Look of 768 Fifth street stated that she wished to enter a protest against the saloon and said: "A saloon is acknowledged as a degrading thing. If this was to be established around Lake Merritt where the wealthy people live it would not be listened to for a moment. Now we don't want this saloon and we hope you will not allow this man to establish his business among us."

ANOTHER PROTEST.

W. B. England protested against the granting of a license to Thompson & Jacobs, corner of Twenty-sixth and San Pablo avenue, on the ground that it would be a public nuisance and would be a detriment to private property. He stated that many school children were compelled to pass the proposed saloon every day.

A. N. Wachs also protested against the saloon on the ground that it would depreciate his property.

Half a dozen witnesses were called and stated they thought the neighborhood would not be hurt but that it would be better to have the building occupied by a school.

Puigot stated that he had a petition of fifty-four names for the saloon as compared to twenty-eight against it. Councilman Meese stated that the number of saloons in the city were increasing up and that he would be opposed to granting additional licenses.

Councilmen Meese and McAdam voted against the granting of the license. Chairman Bacus, Councilman Burns and Hahn voted to recommend that the Council grant the license.

BICYCLE MEN PLEAD FOR SIDEWALK RIGHTS.

Opposition Declares Walks Are For Pedestrians—No Action By Council Committee.

The Ordinance and Judiciary Committee of the City Council expressed its unwillingness last night, in the face of opposing petitions, to make a recommendation in regard to the proposed ordinance prohibiting bicycle riders the use of the sidewalk and deferred action until another meeting.

James P. Taylor, W. H. Wellby and E. C. Sessions made an attempt in favor of the ordinance prohibiting cyclists the use of sidewalks, while District Attorney John J. Allen, Attorney F. W. Fry and R. M. Pickney pleaded for some privilege for the riders.

In support of his argument Mr. Taylor had a letter read in which C. C. Watson of 456 Twenty-sixth street, in a communication to the committee, stated that his wife's death was due to a bicyclist running her down. He further said he had been knocked down twice on the sidewalk he had said $140 for. He asked that the new ordinance be put into effect at once.

Mr. Wellby said that it had become dangerous for people to go in and out of houses on account of the speed at which riders went by their houses.

Mr. Sessions argued that the sidewalk was a walk and not for the use of vehicles.

Attorney Allen said that in the outside districts there were so few people and such long stretches of sidewalks that it would be worth on many people living out in the suburbs to pass the ordinance.

Mr. Taylor had a new ordinance, in which he provides that one side of the street be given over to the bicyclists.

On both sides of the street, the committee stated that it wished to more fully consider the matter, and put off its final decision until the next meeting.

WOMAN TRIED TO COMMIT SUICIDE

PREVENTED FROM JUMPING OFF BOAT BY HER AUNT.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—With a cry of, "Oh, Ed, I cannot live without you; I cannot live without you!" Mary Baggs, a young wife who says that her husband, Edward Baggs, deserted her for a girl, attempted to jump overboard from an Oakland ferryboat at about 5:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The boat was approaching Goat Island, when the crowd of race track habitués which crowded the decks, noticed two women in a frantic struggle near the stern. One was evidently endeavoring to join the great army of suicides who had leaped from the Oakland boats into eternity, and the other, who proved to be Miss E. Livermore, her aunt, was trying to hold her back.

By the time the second officer arrived upon the scene, Mrs. Baggs had all but accomplished her purpose.

Special Officer Greenleaf ordered a cab for the women as soon as the ferryboat was reached and, still in a pitifully hysterical condition, Mrs. Baggs was driven to the home of her aunt on Edwy street.

When seen there last night she told the old, old story of a faithless husband who preferred the pace that kills to his wife and home.

"We were so happy until we left our home at 433 Golden Gate avenue, five or six months ago," she said, trying to speak steadily. "But now he spends his money going with other women. I saw him Wednesday in Oakland and I thought that maybe our trouble would blow over like a lover's quarrel. But a friend told me that he was at the races this afternoon and was going to jump off the boat and end everything."

When taken ashore by the police Mrs. Baggs gave her name as Mrs. May Allen, and said she formerly was a reporter on a morning newspaper. Mrs. Allen later reported to the Emergency Hospital that she was visiting relatives in Alameda yesterday, and her husband, who formerly worked as a steward at a hotel here, went to the races. He evidently lost for while with her Alameda friends and she received a telegram from her husband which read:

"Have tried and failed. Come for good."

WANTS THE BOY GIVEN A TRIAL

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—Dear Sir: On Tuesday morning last I was in Judge Smith's court in the interest of a girl (Mary Garibaldi), whom I would have rescued if I could, when the case of Arthur Rowe was called. He pleaded guilty to a charge of disturbing the peace. Upon the Judge inquiring if any of his relatives were present one claiming to be his mother stepped forward and without being questioned at once denounced her boy in most emphatic terms. It was so touching (even had the boy been as bad as was represented) that I at once determined to interview Arthur and, if possible, discover his good traits.

In his cell that evening with my arm about him and his tears flowing freely the boy described (without denouncing his parents, either) a home life calculated to be anything but encouraging.

I have never met I find many parents similar to this boy's, and my experience is that if the good qualities of the rising generation are sought out and developed by those who are responsible for their upbringing and training, instead of their holding up the bad ones for the gaze of the public—as is too often the case—such boys as Arthur Rowe need never be branded for life.

I say he is willing to work-away from home. Way not give him a trial and thus prove that the evil one is not always so black as he is painted. Respectfully yours,

Sam Hoover Finds Something Better Than Gold Mines.

There is no happier man in this whole wide world today than Sam A. Hoover, of Greensboro, N. C., who is receiving the congratulations of his friends upon his fortunate find of something better than gold mines or oil wells. Mr. Hoover in a letter to a friend in Oakland, writes:

"Three months ago I was greatly distressed by nasal catarrh and entire deafness in the right ear. The labor of hawking and scraping to get throat and nasal passages free from the foul secretions deposited there, might be about equal to that of a six mile team with a road-scraper to get the earth from the roadside to the center."

I purchased an outfit of Hyomel and Hyomel balm, and as a result of its use my head, throat and nasal passages are all free from secretions of any sort, only as Nature designed, and my hearing in both ears is nearly as good as it ever was."

"There is no disagreeable stomach dosing in using Hyomel; just breathe it and its pure fragrance will kill the catarrhal germs in the head, throat and lungs. Hyomel balm used in connection with Hyomel capsules cures the worst case of catarrhal deafness."

The complete outfit costs but $1 and extra bottles are only 50 cents. Ask Osgood Bros. to show you the strong guarantee under which they sell Hyomel. It costs nothing unless it cures.

EIGHT MEMBERS INITIATED

LODGE OF YEOMEN MEET—ADDRESS BY THE COAST ORGANIZER.

SAN LEANDRO, April 14.—Eight new members were initiated last night into the local lodge of Yeomen, Ivanhoe Homestead No. 865. An elaborate banquet followed the exercises. A number of after dinner speeches came next, the principal one being delivered by J. B. Gossage, the coast manager of the organization.

The guests dined until after midnight to the music of J. W. Bulen's Orchestra, which is composed of the following musicians: J. W. Bulen, violin; C. Hiser, clarinet; T. Flores, cornet; R. Warren, trombone and Professor Hovey, piano.

There were a number of members of the San Francisco lodge present and all declared that they had passed a most pleasant evening. The arrangements were in charge of Mrs. A. C. Newton, chairman of the committee.

Captain Bulen is busy in drilling the degree staff of the lodge here. It is composed of twenty young women, and they are showing great promise. The team will exhibit its skill at the district convention, which meets at Watsonville May 18th.

RICHELIEU DRAWS WELL AT LIBERTY

There will be the usual matinee tomorrow afternoon at Ye Liberty Playhouse and the attraction will be the beautiful scenic production of Bulwer Lytton's romance of the days of France when "Cardinal Richelieu" was almost as mighty in his power as King Louis XIII himself. It has already proven a very popular bill with the patrons of Ye Liberty and should be especially so with those who attend the matinee for it is not only a delightful play, but is historical as well, and gives a vivid and striking picture of the customs, dress, manners and thoughts of the people of France during these romantic days. Every role is splendidly played by the cast especially selected from among the best of Bishop's thirty players, and the costuming and scenic effects are better than anything ever seen at Ye Liberty. Next week the popular comedian and great favorite, Frank Bacon, will be in the great laughing success, "The Vinegar Buyer." A great comedy cast will support him.

POLICEMEN SAVE PEOPLE FROM FIRE

NEW YORK, April 14.—Only about $25,000 loss was caused by the fire, early today, which destroyed a six-story building at 129 Hester street, in the heart of the Hebrew settlement on the lower East Side. Only the front walls were left standing.

Early reports were to the effect that scores of persons were asleep in the building, but these proved untrue. There was no one on the premises except the watchman, one of whom was burned slightly about the head. The spectators also sustained slight injuries. The building was filled with sweat-shops. A tenement adjoining was damaged on the upper floors.

Policemen routed about 150 persons from their beds and drove them to the streets, but no one was hurt.

Owing to the recent disastrous tenement fire in Allen street the blaze this morning caused intense excitement among the dwellers in Hester street. The police experienced great difficulty in driving back a dense crowd, every member of which insisted on rushing to the rescue of relatives within the fire lines.

PLAN BOTH SEA AND LAND PICNIC

SAN FRANCISCO, April 14.—That the Southern Pacific is seriously bent on building another line to Santa Cruz, as suggested by the work of its engineering parties and right of way agents during the past few weeks, is being out by the formation of a new company for which articles of incorporation were filed with the County Clerk yesterday. The new company will be known as the Coast Line Railway Company and has a capital stock of $3,000,000. The new company is to take over the construction of the proposed new coast line between San Francisco and Santa Cruz, together with a branch line twenty miles in length from Pescadero to Eureka Creek. The directors named in the articles are William H. Willits, president, Peter F. Dunne, N. T. Smith and J. L. Willcutt.

Southern Pacific surveys have been engaged for some little time running lines through the Santa Cruz mountains and along the coast, with a view to establishing a favorable route for the proposed road. A surveying party under W. B. Rogers is now laying out a line in the neighborhood of Big Creek, and another party is working on the coast, while another surveying crew is at work on the proposed branch line that is to connect Pescadero and Eureka Creek. At the same time Right of Way Agent Wilson of the Southern Pacific is being properly along the line of the proposed road between Santa Cruz and Pescadero. Southern Pacific officials say that nothing definite can be said at this time as to the exact route of the proposed road, except that it will tap the Pescadero and Halfmoon Bay railroads, both of which are rich agricultural sections, that have long been in need of railroad communication with the outside world.

Canal Views of Thomas Jefferson.

It will surprise many to learn that Thomas Jefferson devoted much study to a canal across the Isthmus of Panama. He considered a sea level canal perfectly feasible, and it is worthy of note that professional opinion is coming around to his view. Mr. Jefferson, who was perhaps the best informed American, generally speaking, of his time, paid no little attention in early life to the diverse tidal conditions prevailing in the Caribbean sea and the Pacific. It has long been an article of popular belief that the level of the Pacific ocean is higher than the level of the Caribbean sea, but this is an error growing out of the fact that the tidal fluctuations on the Pacific side are much greater than on the Atlantic side. The tide on the Pacific side rises ten feet higher and falls ten feet lower than it does on the eastern side of the isthmus, though, of course, the mean level of the two oceans is the same.

In 1786 Mr. Jefferson was minister of the Confederate Colonies to the Court of Versailles, and in November of that year, addressed a letter to M. de Roy, of the French Academy of Sciences, discussing the influence of the Gulf Stream and its influence on navigation. He treats the subject at length, but turns aside somewhat discursively to discuss the feasibility and practicability of an isthmian canal. Noting the fact that the Spaniards were at that time desirous of trading with the Philippine islands, by way of the Cape of Good Hope, but opposed by the Dutch under the authority of the treaty of Munster, he says they are examining the practicability of a common passage through the Straits of Magellan or around Cape Horn. Then he adds:

"Were they to make an opening through the Isthmus of Panama, a work much less difficult than some of the interior canals of France, however small this opening should be in the beginning, the tropical current entering it with all its force would soon widen it sufficiently for its own passage, and thus complete, in a short time, that work which otherwise will employ ages. Less country would be destroyed by it in this way. These consequences would follow: Vessels from Europe or the western part of Africa, by entering the tropics, would have a steady wind and tide to carry them through the Atlantic, through America and the Pacific ocean, to every port of the Asiatic coast, and of the entire coast of Africa, thus performing with speed and safety the tour of the whole globe, to within about twenty-four degrees of longitude, or one-fifth of its circumference, the African continent occupying about that space. Second, the Gulf of Mexico, now the most dangerous navigation in the world, on account of its currents and movable sands, would become stagnant and safe. Third, the Gulf stream on the coast of the United States would cease, and with that those derangements of course and reckoning which now impede and endanger the intercourse with those States. Fourth, the fogs on the banks of Newfoundland, supposed to be the vapors of the Gulf stream, rendered turbid by cool air, would disappear. Fifth, those Banks ceasing to receive supplies of sand, weeds and warm water by the Gulf stream, it might become problematical what effect changes of pasture and temperature would have upon the fisheries. However, it is time to relieve you from this long lecture. I wish its subject may have been sufficiently interesting to make amends for its details. These are submitted with entire deference to your better judgment. I will only add to them by assuring you of the sentiments of perfect esteem and respect, with which I have the honor to be, sir, your most obedient and humble servant.

"THOS. JEFFERSON."

While this letter is of no particular value as a technical contribution to the literature of the Panama canal, it is interesting and suggestive. It discloses Mr. Jefferson in the light of a speculative statesman and scientist of great power. Had the great Virginian's capacity for constructive statesmanship been as pronounced as his imagination and speculative grasp, he would have taken rank among the greatest administrators the world has ever produced. He was undeniably a great man—many-sided, avaricious of knowledge, and with a mind manifestly fertile in suggestion—but his theories of government would not square with the ends he sought, and he often sacrificed development to the pedantic teaching of montesquieu. He was greatest when he sunk his own political theories to achieve a mighty object, as in the case of the Louisiana Purchase.

However, it will increase the respect generally entertained for Thomas Jefferson's attainments and grasp of world movements in trade and politics, to find him discussing intelligently the possibilities and importance of connecting the two oceans at Panama, paying due attention to the scientific and technical features involved. It gives evidence of his activity of mind and his intense application. His views with respect to the canal may sound somewhat empirical when read at this late day, but they were abreast of the most enlightened thought of his time, and are saner than the views of many professional engineers and scientists who came after him.

In British Columbia wigs have been taken off the judges. Perhaps it might be as well also to take the blindfold off Justice, so that the judge can see enough to avoid some of the missteps made in the past.

"All the world's a stage," remarked the melancholy Jacques, but according to Belasco, all the stage's a graft for the theatre trust. Belasco asserts that the New York theatrical combine systematically blackmails playwrights and managers all over the country. Controlling the principal theatres in all the larger cities, the Klaw-Erlander syndicate will not allow a new play to be staged or put on the road unless playwright and outside managers divvy up a large share of the profits. The syndicate also attempts to control the theatrical columns of the newspapers so as to hold actors and playwrights in still greater subjection. If Mr. Belasco tells the truth stage robbery is practiced in New York on a scale that would make Black Bart look like a novice in his trade.

We quote from the Sacramento Bee: "Shall the university be disrupted?" asks the OAKLAND TRIBUNE. Not at all. But it would do no harm to tell the university it is not the entire State of California. Nobody has ever contended that the University is the entire State of California. Even on Sacramento contemporary, like Emily in "The Virginian," has cried without laying an egg. But the idea that locating the University farm in Yolo County will convince the University that it is not the entire State of California is an irrelevant phantasy. It is certainly not an argument tending to prove the wisdom of disrupting the University, which the Bee apparently considers something to be desired.

The enterprising correspondents who have been trying to forestall events by scolding out accounts of a naval battle on the supposition that one would take place at an early moment have apparently failed to realize that the Japanese have been making the unexpected happen all during this war.

"The quality of spring poetry put forth this season is considerably above the average," sagely says an exchange. Well, why not? Isn't the spring above the average? Anyway in California it is not merely fair to middling. In the language of the backstairs, "It's just fine."

"We will pull off our coats and go to work digging the canal," says Mr. Shonts, of the Panama Canal Commission. If a man is going to do much work down in Panama it is natural to suppose that he would strip down to his shirt sleeves.

The Poisonous Dust of the Streets.

Street cleaning is the most perplexing problem of municipal sanitation. It is easy enough to get rid of the coarser refuse that finds its way into the thoroughfares of cities, but it is not the coarse stuff that gives the greatest annoyance and causes the more serious consequences.

It is the dust—the fine, almost impalpable, powder, composed of all varieties of human, animal and vegetable filth—that has thus far baffled sanitary experts. This dust is a prolific source of disease. It gets into the mouth and nostrils and thence finds its way into the stomach and lungs, often laden with the seeds of distemper. Thousands die annually in the large centers of population from tuberculosis, scarlet fever, typhoid, diphtheria, etc., contracted by inhaling the dust blown about in the streets. Persons afflicted with all sorts of infectious ailments expectorate on the pavements and the poison dries and makes a component of the fine dust which is thrown into the air by every passing vehicle.

The dust of the streets filters through the most tightly-built houses, soiling goods, furniture and hangings and collecting in carpets and rugs. No device has yet been put in use that will take up this fine powder and get rid of it. Sweeping by hand comes nearest to disposing of it, but the finer and more dangerous particles of dust escape the most careful hand sweeper. No mechanical sweeper removes the dust at all. It is merely agitated and thrown in the air to scatter and create new disturbance. The deadly character of this street dust is proved by the 'frightful mortality from tuberculosis that has developed among the hand street sweepers in New York.

A device that will remove this fine dust and prevent the ravages of disease which it induces will be an inestimable boon to mankind. Incidentally, the man who can invent one will reap an enormous fortune.

Judge Hall's Successor.

William H. Waste will be a creditable successor to Judge Hall on the Superior Bench of Alameda county. Although a comparatively young man, he was highly recommended to the Governor by the local bar and is familiar in a most favorable way to the public. His standing in the legal profession is unimpeachable, his character above reproach. The two terms Judge Waste served in the Assembly proved him to be a man of brains and capacity, and, what is more, a legislator imbued with a high sense of personal responsibility to the public. He gave his attention to measures calculated to benefit the public at large and serve the moral interests of the community. His services in behalf of the State University were notable. It was his privilege to represent his alma mater in the Legislature, and no son of Berkeley ever gave that noble institution more loyal service. And it is a service that is gratefully appreciated. As Judge Waste has practiced almost exclusively at the Oakland bar, he is about as well known in this city as he is in Berkeley, and hence will be no stranger to attorneys and litigants when he ascends the bench. He possesses the qualifications of a good judge.

The statement that the British Government has just sold 31 battleships as old junk for $600,000 is worthy to be placed alongside Admiral Dewey's plea for more battleships. These ships originally cost over $100,000,000, and some of them had not been in commission more than fifteen years. The expense of keeping them in commission was enormous, and when no longer available for fighting purposes they would fetch only the price of old iron. This is a striking illustration of the way a modern navy eats up money. To keep forty-eight battleships fit for action, as Admiral Dewey suggests, would require the construction each year of three or four new ones at a cost of $15,000,000 to $20,000,000, while the cost of maintaining such a navy would be tremendous.

TORTURING A SUSPECTED WOMAN.

If one-half the reports about the treatment of Rosa Torturici by the San Francisco police are true, those officers who participated in her abuse are as contemptible a lot of cowards as ever abused the authority of the law.

Their victim is a young Italian matron, wife of the suspected author of a revolting butchery, the mystery of which the police are trying to clear up. She has confessed to her husband's guilt, but the "detectives" are "convinced" that she knows more, and that she was an accessory to the murder. To fortify this theory they abused the woman most shamefully yesterday, hoping to extract a confession to bolster up their case. A press dispatch, far less mild in its statement of the affair than the city papers, says that in an attempt to force a confession from her, she was temporarily deprived of her infant and thrust into the autopsy room at the morgue, where lay the mangled remains of Vilardo. She refused to look at the body, threw herself on the floor and became hysterical. Then the blood-stained cleaver with which the crime was committed and the blood-stained blanket and shawl in which the dismembered trunk was wrapped were suddenly produced, with the result almost of driving the terror-stricken woman insane. The officers tried to make her touch the rotting remnants of the corpse, dragging her by force to the side of the slab, raised the sheet suddenly and held her while she screamed in terror. Today she is prostrated. What wonder! It does not matter whether the woman is guilty or innocent, twentieth century justice does not employ the torture rack and tortments of the sixteenth century in order to extort confessions. If the woman is guilty, and her complicity in the awful crime can be proven by the ordinary procedure of Anglo-Saxon law, she ought to be quickly hung; but no conceivable excuse will justify the infliction of acute mental torture, fright or physical distress in order to cause her to accuse herself. Two hundred years ago our worthy ancestors used to inflict death on civil offenders and heretics; it was not a question of the sufferers' guilt or innocence; the victims were fiendishly tortured till they made the confession desired, and then they were turned over to be burned, hanged or mutilated, according to the peculiar delights of the people under whose anger they fell.

Today no civilized country practices tortments for the forcing of confessions. The law even discriminates against involuntary confessions and insists on still giving the person who makes one the benefit of every doubt. In the olden times, when the officers proceeded as do the San Francisco officers today, they wanted a confession of guilt; the actual guilt or innocence of their victim did not matter. Exhausted from torture and in mental collapse, the victims usually stated the case to suit their tormentors. Today the public sentiment of Christendom revolts at such conduct by officers of the law. We point the finger of derision at Russia for tolerating such tyranny and look on the authors of it in the past as monsters. It does not matter whether the victim of the abuse is a man or a woman, the reprehensible nature of the tyranny is the same. Women criminals are entitled to no special consideration, but, at the same time, their special weaknesses should not be made the means of their torment, as was done when the woman's baby was taken from her.

The people are anxious, even insistent, that the revolting murder mystery be satisfied and every one in any way connected with it punished by the stern hand of the law; but they do not want any torture chamber methods revived. If the officers have been falsely accused the reporters are conscienceless liars.—Stockton Record.

France is probably sitting up nights with an injunction in its hand ready to file it if Emperor William tries to bring back Africa in his grip.

MAN MARRIES TO SOLVE SERVANT PROBLEM PARDON FOR HUSBAND POISONER

Woman Sentenced to Prison For Life on Murder Charge Just 33 Years Ago Will Be Pardoned.

NEW YORK, April 14.—After thirty-three years of imprisonment, Libbie Garrabrandt, the only woman ever sentenced to life imprisonment in New Jersey, will, it is believed in Trenton, be released within a short time.

Six of the eight members of the Board of Pardons are reported to have voted to report favorably on her petition for release.

A number of the most prominent women in the State have interested themselves in her case, and a petition bearing 40,000 names was sent to the Governor a year ago.

Mrs. Garrabrandt was sent to prison thirty-three years ago, having been convicted of poisoning her husband in a jealous rage.

She was, at that time only seventeen years of age, and her youth was all that saved her from execution.

For twenty years she has been pleading for a pardon, but never before has any of the petitions received favorable consideration.

Heart failure now threatens to end her days at any time.

Don't Want to Marry But Will Do So Rather Than Pay Woman $10,000.

GREAT BARRINGTON, Mass., April 14.—"I may get married, but the Lord knows I don't want to," said John Dimon, 75 years old. "I have refused the woman twice, but it seems to be a case of pay my money or marry again."

Mr. Dimon was speaking of the $10,000 breach of promise suit brought against him by Mrs. Lydia White, 45 years old, of Pine Plains, N. Y. Papers were served and Mr. Dimon's property was attached by Deputy Sheriff Malcolm Douglas. Mr. Dimon is the town's wealthiest citizen.

Mr. Dimon takes great pride in his personal appearance. His heavy shock of hair and thick goatee are kept as black as they were fifty years ago. He is in splendid health and drives the fastest horse in town.

With Yankee foresight, the day after the sheriff's visit Mr. Dimon went to the town clerk's office and obtained a license to marry Mrs. White, hence his non-committal statement.

"You see," said Mr. Dimon, "Mrs. White came to keep house for me last fall when my regular housekeeper, Mrs. Oscar Fellows, was ill. After a while she asked me to marry her and said she had a little money. Although it was less than I thought I could make all the proposals necessary and told her, 'I guess not.' Then she left, and the next thing I knew Sheriff Douglas picked up here and attached my property. I have got the license, but I don't want to get married again. But I won't pay up."

TREDDIE STRATTON'S EXPERIENCE WITH THE "BOOGIE MAN."

In company with other children, three-year-old Freddie Stratton, son of the Collector of Port, F. S. Stratton, 1201 Harrison street, was tempting the "boogie man" by placing his foot in a drain pipe, in the yard of Dr. L. F. Herrick, 1317 Harrison street.

Little Freddie, growing bold, shoved his foot as far down the drain pipe as it would go, while his companions expected to see him dragged out of sight by the awful monster they imagine has his domicile underground.

An the little lad and his companions were certain that Freddie had been caught when, after repeated attempts, he was unable to withdraw his limb from the drain pipe.

"Wow!" shouted the little son of Collector of Port Stratton. It was this cry that brought the sister of Dr. Herrick to the scene and aroused that aristocratic section of the city. Companions of the little fellow ran to the Stratton residence near by and informed Mrs. Stratton that Freddie was in the grasp of the "boogie man."

Not understanding what they meant, but alarmed for her son's safety, Mrs. Stratton went with his playmates and found Freddie with one limb imbedded in the earth up to his knee.

Women, children and servants of the neighborhood gathered about the imprisoned youth and sought to relieve him from what he said was the hold of the "boogie man."

But it remained for Stephen Gage to effect a rescue. Armed with a shovel he dug away the dirt surrounding the drain pipe, then with one whack broke the clay cylinder which was holding the youth.

When released young Stratton peered into the earth, in an attempt to see the naughty "boogie man," but there was none there.

However, the spot is looked upon with awe and fear by the children of the neighborhood.

And Freddie's experience will no doubt be used as an example by mothers and nursery maids who seek to effect obedience from children through fear of the "boogie man."

Volles, plain, flecked and checkered are most favored and the newest is chiffon voile of delicate softness and lightness.

BEST TIME FOR MINISTERS TO CALL ON THE WOMEN OF THEIR FLOCK.

NEWARK, N. J., April 14.—The best time for a young minister to make pastoral calls upon the women of his congregation is in the evening, when the women's husbands are at home, said Bishop Berry in his charge to the newly admitted ministers of the Newark Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church recently.

Bishop Berry urged the importance of pastoral visits, but said that on this point he was going to talk plainly, though he might have to apologize for doing so before so large an audience.

The Bishop declared that the afternoon call on women of the congregation, when they were likely to be alone, should be frowned upon. He urged that the young ministers be particularly careful of how they talked of women and to do so sparingly.

Then he took up the subject of the confidence placed in ministers. He declared this confidence admitted them to the homes of the best families in the land. Any one, he said, who violated this confidence, or betrayed it in any way, was not a minister, but a scoundrel.

HEALTH NOTES

One of the most soothing applications for a free burn is raw potato scraped or grated and bound like a poultice on the injured surface.

Wrinkles and creases should always be massaged in the opposite direction—that is, upward and outward. It is well to learn the anatomy of the face before attempting to erase wrinkles. The general rule given above is established, but does not provide for exceptions in individual cases.

Cream is without exception the best of all fats for nourishing both adults and children. Of course, it is not needed equally by all persons, and there are many who cannot digest it. When a fat is needed and it can be digested, cream should be tried and it may be "pushed" to the greatest extent the digestion will allow.

It may be debatable whether, if one had the power of living forever on this earth one would be wise in using it. But it is not reasonable to question the wisdom of accepting the pleasures that Providence offers us. It is not right to lie in bed when we have been bidden to the feast of nature, the sun is rising above the horizon, flooding the seas or crowning the hills with light. The birds are trilling their joyous praises. The air is pure from the laboratory of the universe. It is a tonic to the jaded system; a sedative to the harassed brain.

Married This Woman Because it Was Cheaper Than Hiring Servant.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 14.—Mrs. Ethel P. Offenbacher, wife of Harley S. Offenbacher, a well-to-do farmer, who is suing him for a limited divorce for a period of five years and $3500 alimony, testified in the Superior Court that she had learned that her husband told their neighbors he married her because it was cheaper than hiring a girl to help his mother.

She was married a year ago at the age of 17. On the day following the ceremony she alleged she went to his home and was put to work immediately. She testified that arduous tasks he set for her was the cutting of a field of oats and the feeding of stocks two or three miles from home. In the complaint she stated that Offenbacher is worth $10,000, and that he offered her the choice between a wedding ring and a front yard swing when he proposed marriage.

Mrs. Offenbacher declared that until she became too sick for heavy work her daily duties were to feed two horses, carry water to two miles, pump water for twenty-four hogs and nine cattle. She also stated that the only money he ever gave her was to buy some shoestrings.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Italy still has its love romances. It is reported that one dark night in Rome recently a lover, with the assistance of his friends, abducted his sweetheart from the side of her stern mother, after an exciting struggle in the road. He discovered later, however, that the protesting lady was not his love, but her frigate mother.

A charming way of serving ices at a child's party is to line common flower pots, two inches and a half in diameter at the top, with paraffin paper, afterward filling nearly full with ice cream. Sprinkle with grated sweet chocolate to represent earth, and stick a flower in the top. Another pretty way is to make a basket with four ladyfingers, cut squares at the ends and fastened invisibly with little wooden toothpicks. Tie a ribbon around the basket to hold it firmly, and insert a square piece of ice cream. Lay a flower on the plate, and be sure that the ribbon and the flower harmonize in color. At this season yellow ribbons and yellow tulips, or green ribbons and white narcissus, are especially pretty. A little later apple blossoms and pink ribbons will be delightful. And there are many other attractive ways of serving, proper taste suggesting much along this line.

"Among the most interesting things I saw in the South were the 'dress records' of the girls I visited," said a girl who had just returned from New Orleans. "It is quite the latest thing in the way of a scrap book, and not at all expensive. For 50 cents or less a girl gets a good, strong scrap book of coarse paper, such as are used for pasting invoices in business houses. On the pages are fastened with safety pins small cuttings from every gown she overgarnment the owner has worn since she began her collection, with some of the trimmings. The cost of the garment and the special occasion on which it was worn are written out and pasted beside the sample of material. I saw 'dress records' worn by girls when the all-important question was popped, when they became happy brides, and I even saw samples of gowns marked down as the record of a divorce. I have begun my scrap book with samples of the gowns worn during my visit."

Queen Wilhelmina's crown, which is very gorgeous, is made of dull gold, with only the edges polished. A circle of sapphires and emeralds inclosed a crimson cap, and the sixteen points of the imperial arches are mounted with large single pearls.

There are two ways of looking at a husband. One is to make up your mind that he has no faults and to consider him a piece of perfection. The other is to recognize his faults and to make up your mind to love him in spite of them. This is the way that will wear. Look out for the good qualities that offset them. You will find them if you take the trouble. Then make up your mind that you will adapt yourself to the failings. Sensitiveness is, after all, a form of selfishness and married life is a perpetual giving up of your selfishness. Don't believe that your husband wants to hurt you, or that he is a selfish brute because he has forgotten something you asked him to do. "He would not have done that when he was courting me," you may murmur. Very probably not. But he does other things for you that he didn't do then. Think of those and look after your own transgressions in the way of forgetfulness and neglect and think less of his. But, above all, whatever his faults, don't nag.

RICH GIRL WILL WED A HUMBLE MINISTER.

PAWTUCKET, R. I., April 14.—With millions at her command, with great social triumphs to her credit, wooed at one time by a prince of the royal blood, Miss Deborah Sayles, the youngest and most beautiful of the daughters of the late Frederick C. Sayles, has chosen to become the bride of an humble young minister, the Rev. Frederick B. Hill.

The wedding will be in June, and a great part of the bride's riches will be turned to charity purposes.

Mr. Hill is the assistant pastor of the Central Congregational Church of Providence. The wedding will take place at the magnificent Sayles home, East avenue, in this city. Boston, New York and Newport society will make it one of the principal events of the late spring.

Society was not astonished at the announcement of the engagement, because for a long time it has been known that Miss Sayles's inclinations were toward a life wherein her great wealth would give her an opportunity to relieve suffering and support and encourage the work of uplifting humanity. Mr. Hill has always been foremost in plans for charities, and Miss Sayles has frequently aided him in their furtherance.

Miss Sayles, or "Debbie," as she is known to her intimates, is one of the richest girls of Rhode Island, charming in manner and a universal favorite in society circles in Rhode Island and New York. There were no end of suitors for her hand. She is descended from one of Rhode Island's famous families.

Her father, the late Frederick C. Sayles, was one of the pioneer manufacturers of the Bay State, having been connected with the Sayles Bleacheries in Saylesville, for many years. He was identified with many other local industries, and president and director in several banks. A few years after the death of his wife he erected and donated to the city the beautiful public library building which is known as the "Deborah Cook Sayles Memorial Library," the cost being more than $100,000. He was a brother of Frank A. Sayles many times a millionaire.

The most remarkable women's rights demonstration ever held in London took place in the queen's hall the other night, when over 100 members of Parliament and candidates pledged to support the women's suffrage cause confronted 1800 fair agitators. Many women could not gain admittance and a small hall was used for the overflow. John Morley, who once ranged himself with the forces hostile to the women's cause, sent the following significant message: "Few now hold that the chief business of women is the kitchen and the nursery. Plain social facts are against that odious and ignoble view. Great hosts of women in constantly increasing proportions earn their bread with their own hands, and the female worker in a Scottish printing office or a Lancashire cotton mill is as much entitled to a voice in the laws that regulate her toil as is the man."

TODAY'S SPORTING NEWS

TWINSULLIVAN AND IT ONLY ON WAY TO ALASKA LASTED 12 INNINGS.

"Twin" Sullivan and Harry Krant have left Seattle for Dawson. Sullivan will fight Nick Burley there and Krant has been matched with Fred Wyatt, the Portland lightweight, who has been trouncing all comers in the north. The fighters are being taken north by Tom McDonald, the well-known Seattle sporting man, who, with his brother, runs a big club in Dawson.

Sullivan ought to make easy work of Burley, who cannot hit hard enough to dent a slab of butter, and if he does he will clean up a bunch of money, for fifth-rater, as the sound sports know Sullivan to be, he has a great reputation in Alaska, and never has any trouble in getting backing. Sullivan will give weight to Burley and the crowd to give him a beating in the bargain. Perhaps this will be a repetition of the two fights Burley had with Chas. Dawson several years ago, in which the two men cleaned up a sackful full of gold. Burley knocked Choyinski out in six times in their first battle, "as previously arranged," as the Japs have it, and then there was a talk of several weeks while the second match was being arranged. Burley got so chummy because he had whipped Choyinski that the latter got a little sore from some of his personal remarks. In the second battle he got his revenge, for he chopped Burley's countenance up until it is no longer like a Hamburg steak, and won as he pleased. There are still sports in Dawson who will say that the fight was on the square, "the square," as they call it, was for Joe was sore and he knew there was no more money in sight.

But that first fight—Joe Sullivan cleaned up a few hundred dollars in his two fights in Tacoma, and he got that last money so easily that he should have paid his own way into the hall. It was like taking candy from the baby for him to beat Fred, and though at the ringside knew that he allowed the Portland boy to stay longer than he had any right to, simply to give the gang a run for their money.

"Twin" was not satisfied with the attendance at either of his Tacoma fights, and he hopes to do better in Alaska. The crowd at the second fight was not as large as the first one, which shows that the sports up Tacoma way get wiser when a brick house falls on them.

"Twin" hopes to have a prosperous season in Alaska, and he may come out in the fall owning a couple of claims.

Harry Krant has been in Alaska before. He can get all kinds of backing in Nome, for in his first time out he hung it on such a hard-hitter as Tommy Bullen, and he has improved a lot since then. He will meet a hard little man in Fred Wyatt, but Krant ought to win if he is in shape, for he is as strong as a bull moose and is a willing performer with both hands.

Harry has really never had a chance to show what he can do in the fighting game. He was hooked up with a manager for a while who made it practically impossible for the boy to get any matches, but up in the north he ought to be able to get the coin, for he will meet all comers at his weight, and he looks good enough to deliver the goods.

Harry is a square little fellow, and is not the tough that some folks would make him appear. He made his first fight at the fight in Tacoma, but that was due to his enthusiasm. He thought the first rest, and for three minutes he lay flat, roughed around, contrary to the rules, so he jumped in to help his friend.

KID M'COY IS KIDDING AGAIN.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14.—Kid McCoy, the crack pugilist, has tried out his new trick of the Chinaman, the American League in a ten-minute bout, and announces that he believes Smith is the man to whip Jeffries.

"I believe that Smith could give Jeffries a hard fight now, without any further training, and in a year he can lick Jim," said McCoy, after he had come from the room in the Clarendon Hotel where the men practiced for ten minutes. McCoy was puffing from the fast work, while Smith was merely puffing a little perspiration on his brow. He was not past his prime, and he was a friendly boy. I kept tapping him for about six minutes. Then we had a little rest, and then I told him I was going to go to it hammer and tongs.

"He came at me like a bull, and I had the hardest time I ever had in my life, I think, standing. I was going to knock me out, and I think he would if he had caught me fairly on the chin. I believe honestly that he hits harder than Jeffries; he is faster, and he knows pretty nearly as much about the boxing game as Jeffries.

"Let me take this fellow and train him for a year and I will beat Jeffries with him just as sure as the sun sets."

The versatile McCoy has always been more or less of a jester, and it was no wonder that he was employing his talents in this line on this occasion. It is well to remember that he told Jack Munroe about the same thing.

MORAN WANTS TO FIGHT NEIL.

NEW YORK, April 14.—Owen Moran, the English bantamweight fighter, arrived yesterday on the steamer Majestic. He was met by Tom O'Rourke, who will look after his interests while he is in this country. Moran is one of the most promising fighters in the world, having won the English bantamweight title over four and a half inches, weighs 114 pounds in fighting trim and is 21 years old. He has been fighting more than five years, during which time he has engaged in forty-nine battles, losing one decision to Jim Bowker, who holds the bantamweight championship of the world.

Asked his plans for his stay here, O'Rourke, speaking for Moran, said: "I haven't decided just yet what we will do. I think I will have Moran show at some of the vaudeville houses for a few weeks, and then I will match him with some of the little fellows in limited round bouts in Baltimore or Philadelphia. If Moran is in good in these fights I will post a forfeit and match him to fight Frankie Neil of California for the bantamweight championship of America. I feel certain he will make all the little fellows hustle on this side of the water."

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—There is no truth in the report from Cracow that Lieut. Gen. Stossel had been formally condemned to death by the commission appointed to inquire into the surrender of Port Arthur. His trial only began today.

YESTERDAY'S RESULTS.

Tacoma 6, San Francisco 1.
Portland 6, Oakland 2 (12 innings).
Los Angeles 3, Seattle 2.

It looked like another sixteen-inning game yesterday between Van Halteren and the visitors from Portland. The score posted was 2 to 2 up to the twelfth inning, and then McCredie's brolings broke up the struggle by legalizing four runs, without much trouble.

The Oakland-Portland game Wednesday began with a 1 to 1 score in the first inning and when the ninth period was reached the score read 2 to 2. Strange, but yesterday the score read 1 to 1 in the first period and the ninth inning saw it 2 to 2.

Local fans are certainly getting linings for their money. In two days there have been played twenty-eight innings of baseball and the fans only paid to see two games.

Although the season is young two records have been broken on the Idora Park grounds. The first was when a hit-no-run game was recorded and the other was the sixteen-inning affair. Both exceed any such performance on the local grounds.

Eddie Householder is the most dangerous man on the Portland team. A fan can ever tell just what Edward is going to do with that big stick of his. He fanned out yesterday, and again, when bases were full, rapped out a two-bagger that registered a run.

Portland's big fellows were in action yesterday. The battery is composed of a whole lot of humanity. Catcher Lean is 6 feet 5 inches, while pitcher Garvin stands 6 feet 4 inches, making a total of 12 feet 9 inches.

Here is yesterday's score:

MILLER HAS BASKET-BALL CLEANED UP AT RELIANCE TONIGHT.

It comes easy to some people. Now there's M. D. Miller, horseman, who yesterday picked a small fortune away from the gentlemen who lay odds at the local track.

Miller began with Estella J., and obtained 4 to 1 for his money. When the race was over Miller had about $11,000 worth of tickets.

Then in the next event he backed Eva G. at 8 to 1 with a bundle of his winnings. Another good-sized package was taken from the men of chance.

In the last race Miller selected True Wing, the winner, and his own horse, Gold Enamel. As he got 2 to 1 for his money on True Wing he more than made enough for his losses on Gold Enamel.

It is estimated that Miller made about $25,000 on the day.

BRITT-NEIL WILL BOX TONIGHT.

Jimmy Britt and Frankie Neil will box for charity tonight at the Forest, Fish and Game Exhibition in Mechanics Pavilion, San Francisco. It will be a friendly bout, but it will be fast, as there is a slight argument between the pair and both will want to make the best possible showing. Neil challenged Britt a few months ago, notwithstanding the discrepancy in their weight. To add tone to the affair the veteran announcer, Billy Jordan, will introduce the boxers.

MILWAUKEE, April 14.—It is practically settled that Willie Fitzgerald, the Brooklyn lightweight boxer, will meet Jimmy Gardner, the Boston crack, in a twenty-five round battle at Goldfield, Nev., the latter part of May. The boys will get a pulse of $100, with the privilege of 50 per cent of the receipts.

HE COULD NOT HOLD TWO POSITIONS

ALAMEDA, April 14.—At a special meeting of the Board of Education last night the resignation of Percy Fox, who was recently appointed school census marshal, was accepted. Mr. Fox is a letter carrier in the Alameda Postoffice Department, and had ascertained that by a decision of the postal authorities he could not legally serve in both positions, so he was obliged to relinquish the marshalship. The School Board appointed in his stead as census marshal Carl A. Allen, who held the position last year. There will be no change in the deputies recently appointed.

STRONGEST 9 IN AMERICAN LEAGUE. UMPIRE TELLS OF HIS DUTIES.

Timothy Sharp, the well-known Camden baseball expert, thinks the strongest nine that could be gotten out of the American League would comprise Chesbro, Dineen and Young, pitchers; Criger, catcher; Harry Davis, first base; Lajoie, second base; Wallace, short; Bradley, third, and Jake Stahl, Haldrick and Keeler, outfield.

He also says that there can be no question that on the left side of the diamond, that is, as far as shortstops and third basemen are concerned, the American League has by far the advantage.

Every club in the American League, except St. Louis and Washington, is supplied with a first class third baseman. The list of the great third-cushion experts is really imposing and it makes one regret that Washington and St. Louis have not representatives in this class. If Wallace is kept at third by McAlester, the Browns will have the peer of Collins, Bradley, or any other guardian of the difficult corner.

Look at the American League shortstops and they stack up almost as strong. Farnsworth, Elberfeld, George Davis and Cassidy are wonders in their line, but Monte Cross, Turner or O'Leary are not wonders. When you compare the third basemen and shortstops of the National League with these marvels, there is really no comparison as a whole, although it must be conceded that the Nationals have in Dahlen, Corcoran, Wagner, Tinker and Shaw, men of very high class as fielding shortstops. There is a dearth of third basemen, for while Leach, Steinfield, Brain, Devlin and Casey are none of them, except Tommy Leach, would be rated as strictly first class. That's where the American League has a most decided advantage and will have for a year or two yet, until some of the coming stars of the National have arrived.

CORBETT AND HANLON ARE MATCHED.

According to the information received across the bay, Young Corbett and Eddie Hanlon have been matched to fight before the Hayes Valley Club late next month.

It is said that Young Corbett will start for the coast at once.

Nothing has as yet been said about weight, but it is supposed that Corbett will not enter the ring weighing less than 130 pounds.

In fact, he will not have any too easy a time making those pounds.

RUSSIA HEARS OF DISPATCHES

ST. PETERSBURG, April 14.—Dispatches from Washington, showing that Japan officially notified the United States when the rupture with Russia occurred that no act of hostility would take place until after a formal declaration of war had been made, whereas hostilities broke out February 1, and the declaration of war was not formally made until February 10, attract much attention here. Although the dispatches were presented late for newspaper comment this morning, there is considerable speculation as to the cause of the delay in the statement at this time. It is regarded as a friendly manifestation towards Russia on the part of the United States. Russia has always contended that the statement of M. Kurino, former Japanese Minister at St. Petersburg, to Foreign Minister Lamoriniere, when he presented the same severing diplomatic relations, in which he expressed the hope that the rupture was not to be an attack without warning in the shape of a declaration of war.

J. P. MORGAN IS INDIGNANT

ROME, April 14.—Before J. P. Morgan, who arrived here yesterday from Naples, left Tomarina, an examining magistrate boarded his yacht, the Corsair, to take Mr. Morgan's testimony concerning the person who sold the famous Lope stolen from the incident and most disapproved of its occurrence.

NEW YORK, April 14.—A daughter has been born to Mrs. Herbert Leroy Satterlee, formerly Miss Louise Morgan, daughter of J. P. Morgan.

PRaises JAPAN'S BASE OF OPERATION

LONDON, April 14.—A British naval officer who knows the China Sea well, says that making harbor in Pescadore Islands between Formosa and the Chinese mainland, which the Japanese have chosen as one of the naval bases for operations against the Russian squadron, is an ideal base for torpedo operations. He thinks that the fact that the Japanese have now placed this position indicates that they are satisfied that there is no longer any possibility of the Russian fleet being driven into the Straits of Formosa, the southern entrance of which he must now be near.

Ballard's Horehound Syrup. Immediately relieves hoarse, croupy cough, oppressed rattling, rasping and difficult breathing. Henry Stearns, Druggist, Shullsburg, Wisconsin, writes, May 20, 1902: "I have been selling Ballard's Horehound Syrup for two years, and have never had a preparation that has given better satisfaction. I notice that when I sell a bottle they come back for more. I can honestly recommend it." 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by Wishart's Drug Store, Tenth and Washington streets.

"My Cate Is Dough." Did not use Sperry's Flour.

Umpire J. E. Johnstone, of the big league, discussing his vocation the other day, gave a few hints on how to do it.

"An umpire has a sort of judicial position. He has to make a decision, but he's got to hand it down in a flash instead of taking three weeks off, as a judge does, to consider the point in case. What's more, he's got to leave aside all questions of personal feeling and decide the case strictly on its merits. That's what makes a good umpire. I had very gentlemanly experience in the Southern League. The foul tips and passed balls that sometimes hit us are awful. Why, I've had the bones in my left ankle broken with a spent ball and you and you're knocked out of me hundreds of times with a foul tip. They hit you all over, and they come fast and hard. It's no joke. Sometimes you get hurt so badly in a game that you want to get a rest. But there's no more for an umpire. No matter how sick he is nor how badly he is hurt, he can't quit. That's where a player has it on a umpire.

"But I want to say the umpiring is different now from what it used to be. With the president of the league insisting that there shall be no rowdiness and things outrageous players, it's easier now. Besides, the ball players of today seem to be more sensible. The game is their business, and they don't waste so much time kicking. They're very gentlemanly, and altogether, the average ball player of today is a lot easier to get on with.

"Being an umpire he has a lot of strange ideas. You take some decision that you make and you're doesn't like it, and he'll harbor revenge for a while. Now, if you were in the same hotel or traveling with the team, he'd probably say something and you'd get into a scrap. So the best thing is to keep by yourself.

"At that, I think the life's pretty good and, as some fellow said, 'If you umpire, you're sure of heaven.' If you umpire for two weeks you're certainly sure. So I have a chance on two counts."

AMATEURS IN TITLE GOES TONIGHT.

The Hayes Valley Athletic Club will hold its regular monthly boxing entertainment at Woodward's Pavilion, San Francisco, tonight and two championship bouts are to be decided.

JAPANESE IN TOUCH WITH RUSSIANS

TOKIO, April 14.—It is reported that the main force of the Russians, which retired in the direction of Hsingking, has reached Kirin. The rear guard, which is estimated at 12,000 men, continues in the vicinity of Harlung Cheng, closely in touch with the Japanese vanguard. The main force which retired from Kaiyuan, over the Kirin road, is reported at Kirin with a rear guard of 8,000 men, at Itschow. Hark-lusu and at Sulipao, keeping in touch with the Japanese forces.

Changchen is evidently the rallying point for the Changtu and Fukumen forces. Although a force, estimated at 13,000 men, has been detached to occupy Fenchua, and 3,000 to hold Pamlecheng, the latter force seems assigned to check and retard the Japanese advance.

Until a child is four years of age, it should have an hour's sleep in the middle of the day.

COUNCIL COMMITTEES IN WEEKLY SESSION.

Many Petitions and Protests Are Heard By Aldermen—Saloon Licenses Granted.

All the members of the City Council attended the meeting of the Council Committees last night and much business of a routine character was transacted.

The features of the evening's work was the laying over of the new bicycle ordinance until the next meeting of the committee, the recommendation of the appointment of an additional patrol wagon driver, the laying over of the ordinance creating five new policemen and the recommendation that Frank Johns and Thompson & Jacobs be granted licenses over protests.

AUDITING AND FINANCE.

The Auditing and Finance Committee last night approved a requisition of $499 for stenographic and typewriting work for engraving bill of exceptions under directions of City Attorney in the action entitled, "Contra Costa Water Company vs. City of Oakland."

The resolution requesting the Courts, boards and officers of the city government to furnish list of supplies was recommended.

NO NEW POLICEMEN.

The resolution requesting that five additional policemen be appointed was laid over until the beginning of the present fiscal year, which commences on July 1.

The claim of Louis Hoffman for $34.82 was recommended.

WAGON DRIVERS.

The patrol wagon drivers are to have an eight hour day as well as the policemen if a resolution recommended by the Auditing and Finance Committee is adopted by the Council Monday night. In a petition presented to the committee by W. F. Howlett and W. T. Bradley, the two patrol drivers, they call attention to the fact that at the present time they divide the twenty-four hours of duty between them. "We are working twelve hours a day," they say, "every day in the month including Sundays and holidays for $80 a month, and are on duty continuously without lunch and are doing three men's work for two men's pay. The service was inaugurated twenty years ago and the duties have increased proportionately and we petition your honorable body to arrange our duties so that we will have, but eight hours work a day."

ORDINANCES.

The ordinance authorizing the Board of Works to advertise for bids for city printing was recommended.

The ordinance apportioning money to be derived from taxes to various funds was recommended.

The ordinance creating the office of building inspector at a salary of $175 a month was recommended.

STREET WORK.

The protest against severing Sixteenth street, from Adelina street to a point 117 feet west of Chestnut street, was laid over one week to arrange for the work being done by private contract. The protestants won out in the first round, having discovered there was a fatal defect in the resolution of intention. The protestants will not now be unjustly taxed for a neighbor's sewer.

The petition of James Presto to extend sewer in East Eighteenth street was recommended.

The ordinance authorizing the Board of Public Works to advertise for bids for cleaning the streets by machinery was recommended.

The petition of C. H. Kagle for a sewer in Eighteenth street, between Chestnut and Adelina, was recommended.

WANTS ROAD BACK.

The Highland Park Improvement Club, in a communication addressed to the City Council, requested that the city take measures to protect its right to the extension of the roadway of the extension of Sixteenth avenue in East Oakland. The road was built fourteen years ago by T. E. Pope, who originally intended to deed it to the city. The highway finally fell into the possession of the E. B. and A. L. Stone Company, which concern is alleged to have taken dirt from the old road to fill in Commerce street. The roadway formed for many years the only means of traveling from Commerce street to the highland.

The committee recommended that William McGregor be granted permission to sever Perkins street, from Adams to a point 122 feet west.

A petition to establish grades on Bay View avenue was recommended.

It was recommended that Maria Bozhan be granted permission to build a sewer in Forty-fourth street to Telegraph avenue.

The committee also recommended the resolution of intention of severing Forty-fifth street, from Grove street to a point 115 feet west of Clifton avenue.

ELECTED SCHOOL TRUSTEE

AL MERRITT IS CHOSEN TO REPRESENT LOCKWOOD DISTRICT.

ELMHURST, April 14.—Al Merritt was elected the High School Trustee for Lockwood District at a meeting of the citizens in the school-house Wednesday evening. He had no opponent, though Harry Cramer had been proposed by his friends. Mr. Cramer, who is the Constable, refused to try for the additional honor, and he was not nominated at the meeting.

OIL ON ROADS.

E. B. and A. L. Stone have commenced to put petroleum on the streets which surround their property on the Dias tract. Sections of Merchant street and Bay View avenue were oiled yesterday, and the other adjacent highways will soon be treated in a similar manner.

In view of the effects of the crude oil on the Oakland and San Leandro road, it seemed that the experiment was not an unqualified success. During the rainy season this thoroughfare was in a condition almost, if not quite as bad as the other roads adjacent. After the storms ceased the oiled road remained in a muddy state much longer than the rest.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

Many of the young people of the town were present at a dance given last night by Kahler's Orchestra. The affair took place in Red Men's Hall, which was appropriately decorated. The members of the orchestra are as follows: W. T. Kahler, violin; Joseph R. Grayson, cornet; A. D. Victor, clarinet; Miss Nina Wadsworth, piano, and F. W. Edwards, drums.

The entertainment last night was the first of a series to be given by the orchestra.

Tonight there will be given a bon-bon social by McCowan's dancing class. It will be held at Red Men's Hall.

Leslie Arlett, the young son of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Arlett, is ill with typhoid fever. His brother Russell is recovering from the same disease. The boys' father is one of the School Trustees.

FOR COLONY OF CATHOLICS

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 14.—A Commercial Appeal special from Cairo, Ill., says that 100,000 acres of land near Sikeston, Mo., has been purchased by a company headed by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis and will be used to locate a colony of Catholics from New York City and New Orleans. Another 100,000 acres will probably be secured. The people will be colonized in villages upon the purchased land. The company has a capital stock of $1,000,000.

CORDIAL INVITATION ADDRESSED TO WORKING GIRLS

Miss Barrows Tells How Mrs. Pinkham's Advice Helps Working Girls

Girls who work are particularly susceptible to female diseases, especially those who are obliged to stand on their feet from morning until night in stores or factories.

Day in and day out the girl toils, and she is often the bread-winner of the family. Whether she is sick or well, whether it rains or shines, she must get to her place of employment, perform the duties exacted of her—smile and be agreeable.

Among this class the symptoms of female diseases are early manifest by weak and aching backs, pain in the lower limbs and lower part of the stomach. In consequence of frequent wetting of the feet, monthly periods become painful and irregular and frequently there are faint and dizzy spells, with loss of appetite, until life is a burden. All of these symptoms point to a derangement of the female organism which can be easily and promptly cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Abby F. Barrows, Nelsonville, Athens Co., Ohio, tells what this great medicine did for her. She writes:

"I feel it my duty to tell you the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier have done for me. Before I took them I was very nervous, had dull headaches, pains in back, and months were irregular. I had been to several doctors, and they did me no good. Your medicine has made me well and strong. I can do most any kind of work without complaint, and my periods are all right."

"I am in better health than I ever was, and I know it is all due to your remedy. I recommend your advice and medicine to all who suffer."

It is to such girls that Mrs. Pinkham holds out a helping hand and extends a cordial invitation to correspond with her. Her long record of success in treating women's ills makes her letters of advice of untold value to every ailing working girl, and from her wide experience and skill she quickly points the way to health. Her advice is free, and all letters are held by her in the strictest confidence. Address, Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

BOARD TIRED OF WAITING

TASK TO PREPARE MAPS OF FRUITVALE ASSIGNED TO
J. T. GRUBB.

FRUITVALE, April 14.—On account of the slowness of M. R. Cooper, the order given him by the Board of Trade, to prepare a number of large maps of Fruitvale has been rescinded. J. T. Grubb of this place will do the work, having promised to have the charts in readiness within ten days. They are to be up to date and especially designed for the business men of the town. The area to be plotted contains about six square miles. A very large scale is to be employed and the lines will be accurate in every respect.

Only a limited number of the maps are to be printed and each subscriber is to be charged $5. If there is any profit the Board will apply it to advertising the town.

Mr. Grubb also has charge of preparing the small descriptive booklets which are to be given to prospective settlers. The pamphlets are to contain twelve colored reproductions of photographs interesting parts of Fruitvale. There will also be a small map of the town and a well written description of

OLD FOLKS.

THEIR DAYS MAY BE PROLONGED
How the Evening of Life May Be Made
Happier for All.

"If the people only knew the good that Vinol does old people," said Mr. Parker, of the Owl Drug Co., "columns of space in our newspapers would be devoted to the subject for the benefit of mankind in general. I can truly say that we have never sold anything in our store equal to Vinol as a strengthener and body-builder for old people."

"You see, with old age comes feebleness and loss of power, the organs act more slowly and less effectively than in youth, the appetite is poor, the digestion is slow and there is not that same renewal of body tissue. There is nothing more pitiful to me than to see old people tattering around. I know that Vinol cannot bring back lost years, but it will lengthen life and brighten the years that remain."

"We are hearing from all over the country remarkable results which prove my statement, and we have received letters from sons and daughters of old people telling how father or mother has been made well and happy by the vigor and strength which Vinol brings the old."

"It was only a few days ago a letter was brought to my attention from Mr. John G. Nichols of Lawrence, Mass., in which he said that he was eighty-four years old, and he had not felt so good for fifteen years as he had since taking Vinol. It gave him a good appetite, and he feels strong and well, and is working every day from six o'clock in the morning until five o'clock at night."

"It is just this way," continued Mr. Parker, "Vinol invigorates the stomach first of all, creates an appetite and enables the stomach to separate from food the elements needed for rich, red blood, healthy body material and sound steady nerves. In this natural manner it repairs worn tissues, checks the natural decline and replaces weakness with strength."

"For any one suffering from any weakened, run-down condition Vinol will do the same, and it is because we know so well that Vinol will do that we guarantee its action, and we will gladly refund the money paid for it to any one who is not satisfied. I wish every old person in this vicinity would just try Vinol on our guarantee. If it does not satisfy them, we will refund them a cent." The Owl Drug Co.

BLOOD POISON MAN'S GREATEST ENEMY

The disease that has done more than any other to wreck, ruin and humiliate life, is Contagious Blood Poison. Sorrow, shame and suffering go hand in hand with this great enemy, and man has always hated and fought it as he has no other disease. It is the most powerful of all poisons; no matter how pure the blood may be, when its virus enters, the entire circulation becomes poisoned and its chain of horrible symptoms begin to show. Usually the first sign is a small sore or ulcer, not at all alarming in appearance, but the blood is being saturated with the deadly poison, and soon the mouth and throat begin to ulcerate, the hair and eyebrows drop out, a red eruption breaks out on the body, copper-colored spots and sores make their appearance and the poison even works down into the bones and attacks the nerves. Not only is the disease hereditary, being transmitted from parent to child, in the form of scrofula, weak eyes, soft bones, weak, puny constitutions, etc., but is also so highly contagious that many a life has been ruined by friendly hand shake, or from using the toilet articles of one infected with the poison. To cure this blighting, deadly curse the blood must be purified, and nothing will do it so quickly and surely as S. S. S. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, drives out every particle of the poison and makes the blood clean and strong. It does not hide or cover up anything, but from the first begins to expel the poison and build up and strengthen the system. S. S. S. is guaranteed purely vegetable. We offer a reward of $1,000 for proof that it contains a particle of mineral of any kind. Book on the disease, with instructions for home treatment, and any advice desired, without charge.

5 VIOLENT DEATHS IN ONE DAY

SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—Five violent deaths required the attention of the Coroner here in one day. The body of a man was found floating in the sound near Richmond beach and was later identified as that of J. Westley Isham, a Ross Seminary student, drowned a month ago.

An unknown man walked into a South End saloon and while standing in front of the bar fired a bullet into his brain. The wound was fatal. He could not be identified.

William Fraser, a member of the crew of a Lake Washington steamer, fell from the boat while it was towing a launch and was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

J. H. Cameli, a contractor, slipped and fell from a ladder at a new house he was building and fractured his skull. He died within five minutes after the fall.

The body of an infant was found in the south end of the city. Its identity is a mystery.

ROAR GOES UP FROM COLLEGIANS.

Young Engineers at University Protest Against In- creased Fee.

BERKELEY, April 14.—Students of the University in the engineering college prepared and circulated a protest today against the action of the authorities in taxing each student of engineering $10, instead of $5, as heretofore, for the summer school of surveying work.

The finances of the University are understood to be in such shape as to require economy on the part of the administration, and the authorities say that the $10 fee is no more than right, the wear and tear upon valuable apparatus used by the young engineers being such as to warrant the charge. The authorities say that the $5 fee has been insufficient for this purpose, the deficit having to be made up in other ways, and now that finances are not in good shape the fee must be advanced.

Besides this action, which was taken after the Regents met last Tuesday and discussed the financial situation, students are now required to pay an annual $2 fee for gymnasium purposes, whether they take gymnasium work or not. The increased charge to the young engineers, however, is looked upon as the last straw upon the camel's back. They declare that it is unjust to arbitrarily add to the burden of the engineering students with a 100 per cent increase of the fee exacted from them. The money is supposed to cover the wear and tear and injuries sustained by apparatus which the young engineers use. Last year about 300 of these students paid the fee of $5 before going to the summer school at Santa Cruz, where practical work requiring the use of expensive apparatus is annually done. This year the same sort of school is to be operated and students declare their belief that its success will be materially endangered if the $10 tax is insisted upon.

The charge of $3 for gymnasium purposes affects all students. Hitherto only those who took gymnasium work paid and the charge was $1. Hereafter all must pay, whether they take gymnasium work or not, and the charge will be $3.

The Regents, at their meeting a few days ago, were informed by their finance committee that the University's income this year is to be less than hitherto, owing to changing assessment figures, upon which a large share of the institution's income depends. Economy, therefore, was ordered, and with that has come the added tax upon students of the University.

Students at the University now pay an armory locker fee, a medical examination fee, a military uniform fee, seminary room fee, delayed registration fee, special examination fee, re-examination fee and a special fee for non-residents.

STUDENT HONORS ARE EAGERLY SOUGHT.

It Is Now Public Property!

A recent development in the medicine business is here made public. DR. PIERCE announces that the women taking his "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" are going to know just what is contained in it. His "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" for weak women is not a patent medicine. It is an efficient remedy scientifically extracted from the roots of medicinal plants which cure the diseases and weaknesses of women. At first DR. PIERCE used it entirely in his private practice, in which he made a specialty of the diseases peculiar to women. It was so uniformly successful, that afterwards he decided to put it up in a form easily obtained at every drug store. Hereafter every bottle of "FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION" going out from the WORLD'S DISPENSARY Laboratory, Buffalo, N. Y., will have the ingredients in plain English on every bottle.

NOT A PARTICLE OF ALCOHOL

or harmful drugs is contained in this famous prescription. All women who are afflicted with diseases and weaknesses peculiar to their sex, can with perfect safety take this medicine, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred they will be entirely cured of their afflictions. For more than one-third of a century DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION has enjoyed a high reputation for the treatment of the CHRONIC AILMENTS incident to womanhood.

CHEMISTS TESTING PLANTS

THE PROOF:

From long experience Dr. Pierce acquired the knowledge of how to combine the following ingredients in just the right proportion in his "Favorite Prescription" for disease of women.

THIS MEDICINE CONTAINS THE NON-ALCOHOLIC EXTRACTS OF THE FOLLOWING NATIVE PLANTS:

LADY'S SLIPPER (Cypripedium Pubescens).

BLACK COHOSH (Cimicifuga Racemosa).

UNICORN ROOT (Chamaelirium Luteum).

BLUE COHOSH (Caulophyllum Thalictrifolius).

GOLDEN SEAL (Hydrastis Canadensis).

THE REASON:

To meet the many outrageous and wholly baseless attacks of some scoffers, Dr. Pierce has decided to make public the ingredients of this best tonic for debilitated and nervous women.

FORMAL DEDICATION NEXT SUNDAY.

Impressive Services Will Be Held At the New Congregational Church of Alameda.

ALAMEDA, April 14.—Next Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock the formal and impressive dedication will take place of the handsome new sacred edifice erected at the corner of Central avenue and Chestnut street for the congregation of the First Congregational Church.

The building, which cost in the neighborhood of $35,000, is of modified Gothic architecture and most pleasing design, being provided with all the appurtenances of a modern church, and with a seating capacity in the auditorium and galleries of over seven hundred.

The architect is D. Franklin Oliver of San Francisco. Last night at a reception and banquet in the commodious assembly hall of the church, an affair tendered in honor of Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Scudder Jr., over two hundred and fifty of the members and their guests assembled to enjoy the first fruits of their years of expectation and labor, and the occasion proved a very notable one in the history of the church, which was started amid such humble surroundings a quarter of a century ago at the West End.

The new church building occupies practically all the ground space of the lot, with a main entrance in the largest of the three picturesque towers, twenty feet in diameter, which is at the corner of the Central avenue side, and another on Chestnut street. Arian sandstone was used for the main body of the tower, as well as for a considerable portion of the lower walls of the edifice.

Light is afforded in softened rays through triple windows of cathedral glass, and separating the main auditorium from the large Sunday school and assembly hall is a conservatory—a unique feature in church architecture.

Rev. L. Potter Hotchkiss is the efficient pastor, and the board of trustees is composed of George W. Scott, George A. Moore, William Walker, Harry W. Lobb, J. Edward Warren, F. N. Eckley and H. F. Dexter.

UNITARIAN SOCIETY DINNER.

ALAMEDA, April 14.—At the annual meeting and dinner of the First Unitarian Society at the church on Grand street, trustees to serve for the ensuing fiscal year were elected as follows: Frederick Maurer, Dr. William R. Bacon, Major Cullen Bryant, Herbert D. Clark, George H. Murdoch, Dr. W. O. Smith, P. W. Voegt, A. W. Palivan and Edwin Oxt. The banquet hall was made brilliant with flowers and candelabra by the ladies of the church.

President Frederick Maurer of the board of trustees introduced Rev. Christopher Ruess, the pastor, for his annual address. In the course of his remarks Rev. Mr. Ruess spoke of and beautifying the church during the coming summer. The improvements are to include tinting and frescoing the entire church building, transforming the tower room into a study for the minister; securing adequate heating apparatus; replacing the chairs in the auditorium with modern and comfortable pews; and the placing of electric lights in Dodson Hall. A. W. Paltian explained the plan.

P. W. Voegt stated that the improvements contemplated, could be made at an expenditure of $2,000, and within the past three weeks $155 of the amount has been subscribed. At the meeting additional subscriptions were secured which raised the amount to $175.

Other addresses were made by Fred T. Moore, superintendent of the Sunday School; F. Currier Smith, leader of the Junior Church; Lieut. C. D. D. Dickie, as head of the boys' work; Dr. W. R. Bacon, treasurer of the church; Miss H. G. Soule, the secretary; and Mrs. W. D. Higgins, treasurer of Unity Circle; E. J. Holt, chairman of the Alameda grammar school; Miss Alice Maurer, for the Girls' Sunshine Club; Eugene Littleton, for the Boys' Unity Cadets; Miss Mayrly Krusi, for the new Girls' Club—Court Nightingale, Order of Queens of Avalon; Heath Angelo, for the new Boys' club.

The groom-elect formerly lived in Oakland, and was a student at the High School there, later attending the Longfellow High School of the Portland High school. MANY MATTERS OF INTEREST TO HAYWARDS RESIDENTS TRANSACTED.

HAYWARDS, April 14.—An adjourned meeting of the Town Trustees was held in the Town Hall Wednesday night. Charles J. Schilling, the Superintendent of Streets, was instructed to take a sufficient quantity of gravel from the A street hill and spread it on Soto street between A and B streets.

Town Attorney Ryker reported on the question as to the power of the Trustees to fix the electric light rates. He stated that they might exercise that privilege.

FARM COMMITTEE.

The committee appointed by Dr. Browning, president of the Board of Trade, to take charge of the business of getting the University Commission to decide on the neighborhood of Haywards as the place for the experiment in dairy farming, held a meeting Wednesday evening to decide upon a plan of action. It was decided to publish articles in the papers requesting all those who have farms they think proper for the purpose to put a proposal in writing, stating the net price per acre at which they would sell and send it to Dr. Browning's office on or before April 20th. A map must accompany each such offer.

On the committee are E. K. Stroubridge, I. B. Parsons, and C. W. Hyer. They will have charge of selecting the most promising of the situations offered and bringing it to the notice of the Commission appointed by the Governor of the State. The committee will also entertain the members of the latter body if they can be induced to visit Haywards, and display and exploit the site chosen for the farm.

HAYWARDS ITEMS.

The dandruff disappeared; a new crop of hair has taken root, and the bald spot is rapidly being covered." Herpicide is the only hair preparation that kills the dandruff germ that digs up the scalp in scales as it burrows its way to the root of the hair, where it destroys the vitality of the hair, causing the hair to fall out. ## BURGLAR SHOT BY GUARD

TRYING TO ROB BANKER'S HOME WHEN FATALLY WOUNDED.

NEW YORK, April 14.—A burglar was shot and probably fatally wounded early today by a private watchman guarding the home in Brooklyn of George F. Brown, a Wall street banker. The burglar, when discovered, leaped through a plate glass window and was pursued two blocks before he fell with two bullets in his body. The pretense mansion is located on Pierpont street, a fashionable quarter of Brooklyn Heights. In the absence of the family the watchman stayed inside, and was on the top floor when the burglar entered. On being discovered the intruder leaped through a parlor window and fled, with the watchman at his heels. Seeing that pursuit was futile the watchman began shooting. The neighborhood was quickly alerted and members of a fire engine company rushed from their house to investigate. The watchman's bullets grazed the burglar's head and they quickly dodged back. A block further the burglar fell.

On his arm was found a $100 rug, while papers in his pockets bore the name of John Corrigan of Saugerties, N. Y. The physician says he cannot recover.

Times Have Changed

The Regal short-cut system of making and selling shoes direct from tannery to consumer has cut out the four extra and unnecessary profits that used to make such a shoe as the Regal cost six dollars.

There's just one profit between the raw hides and the finished Regal shoes.

It's the perfected Regal system that enables us to offer you ten times as many new styles to choose from as you used to have. It makes it possible to give you twice as much real quality as you used to get for your $3.50.

How else could we offer you a choice of 75 new styles in every Regal shoe?

How else could we make up

Quarter Sizes and eight widths in every one of these seventy-five styles?

How else could we build all our Oxfords on special Oxford lasts—shaped to make them fit at heel and ankle—never chafing and never bulging at the top?

How else could we open another series of new styles this season in addition to the 93 exclusive Regal stores already busy and successful?
